NOTES

2019 POSTSEASON

w

From a 19-31 record to start the 2019 season, to the National League Wild Card game against the Milwaukee Brewers, to Game 7 of the World Series against the Houston Astros, Washington's historic path to its first World Series Championship can best be described by what Nationals manager Dave Martinez said following Game 4 of the National League Championship Series:

*“Often bumpy roads lead to beautiful places.
And this is a beautiful place.”*

HISTORY MADE

On that bumpy road to winning the World Series, the Washington Nationals had many memorable moments and made some history along the way...

- They became the first team in Major League history to win the World Series by winning all four games on the road.
- The Nationals faced elimination five times in the 2019 Postseason. They trailed in all five and came back to win all five. They are the first team in Major League history to have five comeback wins when facing elimination in a single Postseason.
- The pitchers they beat in those games included Josh Hader, Rich Hill, Clayton Kershaw, Justin Verlander and Zack Greinke.
- In those five contests, the Nationals outscored opponents 19-0 from the seventh inning on.
- From Game 4 of the NLDS to Game 3 of the World Series, the Nationals put together an eight-game winning streak. The eight-game winning streak matched the longest winning streak by any Club in a single Postseason, joining the 2014 Kansas City Royals, the 2005 Chicago White Sox and 2004 Boston Red Sox.

MILWAUKEE BREWERS3*WASHINGTON NATIONALS*4*NATIONAL LEAGUE WILD CARD GAME vs. MILWAUKEE BREWERS

After capping the 2019 regular season with a season-long eight-game winning streak, the Washington Nationals hosted the Milwaukee Brewers in their first ever appearance in the National League Wild Card game.

Trailing 3-1 in the bottom of the eighth inning, the Nationals loaded the bases against relief ace Josh Hader. Michael A. Taylor reached on a hit by pitch, Ryan Zimmerman singled and Anthony Rendon worked a walk. With two outs, Juan Soto singled to right field, plating Taylor and pinch-runner Andrew Stevenson. Thanks to a fielding error by right fielder Trent Grisham, Anthony Rendon was able to score from first base to put the Nationals ahead, 4-3.

Daniel Hudson closed the game out and the Nationals moved on to face the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League Division Series.

NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES vs. LOS ANGELES DODGERS

The Nationals embarked on their fifth appearance in the NLDS, facing off against their 2016 NLDS foe, the Los Angeles Dodgers. Washington dropped Game 1, 6-0, but evened the series at one game apiece by taking Game 2, 4-2, behind Stephen Strasburg and his 10 strikeouts in 6.0 innings of one-run ball. To much surprise, Dave Martinez summoned Max Scherzer from the bullpen, and he went on to strike out the side in the eighth inning.

After a 10-4 loss in Game 3, the Nationals faced elimination in Game 4. Max Scherzer allowed one earned run in 7.0 innings, while Anthony Rendon (1-for-2, 3 RBI, R) and Ryan Zimmerman (2-for-4, HR, 3 RBI, R) led Washington to the 6-1 victory, forcing a Game 5 in Los Angeles.

Game 5 saw the Nationals fall behind, 3-0, after two innings. Washington scored a run in the sixth inning and, in the eighth inning, Anthony Rendon and Juan Soto clubbed back-to-back home runs off Clayton Kershaw to tie the game at 3-3. The game extended into extra innings and in the top of the 10th, Adam Eaton walked, Rendon doubled and the Dodgers intentionally walked Juan Soto, bringing Howie Kendrick to the plate. Kendrick took an 0-1 offering from Joe Kelly over the fence in center field, a grand slam to give the Nationals the 7-3 advantage. A diving catch by Michael A. Taylor in the bottom half of the inning sealed the win for Washington and sent the organization to the National League Championship Series for the first time.

WORLD SERIES vs. HOUSTON ASTROS

Representing Washington, D.C. in the World Series for the first time since 1933, the Washington Nationals took Game 1 of the 2019 World Series, 5-4, over the Houston Astros. Trailing 2-0 after the bottom of the first, Ryan Zimmerman clubbed the first home run in Nationals World Series history to put Washington on the board in the second inning. The Nationals tied it in the fourth and took the lead in the fifth inning on an RBI-single by Adam Eaton and a two-run double by Juan Soto. Sean Doolittle closed it out with 1.1 perfect innings to seal the 5-4 victory.

In Game 2, the Nationals and Astros were tied at 2-2 after one inning before the Nationals went on to plate 10 runs from the sixth through ninth innings to take the commanding 2-0 lead in the World Series. Kurt Suzuki and Adam Eaton each clubbed their first career World Series home runs, while Asdrúbal Cabrera went 2-for-5 with three RBI.

Washington's 2-0 lead did not last long. Houston won games three through five at Nationals Park, sending the series back to Minute Maid Park with the Astros leading, 3-2.

In Game 6, Stephen Strasburg capped his historic 2019 Postseason, becoming the only pitcher to go 5-0 in a Postseason in Major League history. He tossed 8.1 innings of five-hit, two-run ball to lead the Nationals. After trailing 2-1 after the first inning, Juan Soto, Adam Eaton and Anthony Rendon homered, and Rendon recorded five RBI on his own to power Washington's offense. Sean Doolittle finished off the ninth inning in relief of Strasburg and the Nationals topped the Astros, 7-2, to force a Game 7.

After being scratched from his Game 5 start with neck spasms, Max Scherzer returned to full strength to take the hill in Game 7. He worked around seven hits and four walks to allow just two earned runs in 5.0 innings of work before handing the ball to rotation mate Patrick Corbin. The first-year National allowed just two hits with three strikeouts in 3.0 shutout innings of relief.

Trailing 2-0 heading to the top of the seventh inning, Anthony Rendon finally got to Astros pitcher Zack Greinke with a solo home run to left field. Juan Soto drew a walk and the Astros replaced the dealing Greinke with Will Harris. Howie Kendrick added to his already clutch Postseason with a two-run home run off the right field foul pole to give the Nationals the 3-2 lead.

The Nationals added a run in the eighth inning thanks to an RBI-single by Juan Soto, and plated two more in the ninth on a bases loaded, two-run single by Adam Eaton to extend the lead to 6-2. Dave Martinez summoned Daniel Hudson for the ninth inning. After inducing a popup by George Springer, Hudson struck out Jose Altuve and Michael Brantley to give the Washington Nationals their first World Series Championship.

NATIONALS IN THE

WASHINGTON NATIONALS COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Washington Nationals are committed to enhancing the quality of life for citizens in the Washington, D.C. region. Our primary focus is on initiatives that honor military families, encourage youth participation in baseball and softball, and support K-12 education in our community.

MILITARY INITIATIVES

The Washington Nationals are proud to work with the large community of military bases, installations and hospitals that serve as permanent or temporary homes to military service members and their families living in the Washington D.C. metropolitan area.

» NATS ON BASE

Through the Nats on Base initiative, the Nationals aim to provide year-round experiences that contribute to the quality of life for service members and their families in the Washington D.C. region, reaching them where they live and work - as well as in-park. The team works with regional and base leadership to develop programming and identify outreach opportunities at local installations.

Leadership Exchange

Nationals front office executives and coaching staff will offer non-military perspectives to service members on a variety of topics, including leadership specialty areas (security/planning, field maintenance, etc.)

Employee Recognition

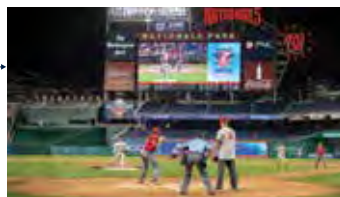

The Nationals align with base recognition programs, providing prizes and recognition for employees of the quarter and the year.

Uniform Program

More than 130 softball teams from bases across the region participated in the Nats on Base Uniform Program. In 2019, the Washington Nationals provided, at no cost to the service branches, a Nationals-branded jersey and cap to each man or woman participating in the base-affiliated intramural softball league. Teams are differentiated through the use of a variety of styles and colors of jerseys and caps.

Battle of the Bases

The Battle of the Bases softball tournament serves as an extension of the intramural season at each of the military bases in the National Capital Region. The preliminary rounds of the inaugural Battle of the Bases tournament were held on Joint Base Anacostia-Bolling in August 2019 to determine which base champions would play in the September 14 championship game at Nationals Park following the Nationals game against the Atlanta Braves. Congratulations to "The President's Own" U.S. Marine Band team from Marine Barracks Washington, D.C. on winning the inaugural Battle of the Bases tournament!

Summer Reading

The Washington Nationals and DoD-MWR Libraries worked together to make reading even more fun throughout the summer. Each library or participating CYP program received Elementary-aged activity books with puzzles and games to play, reading lists, as well as prize vouchers good for two complimentary tickets to a Nationals game for program completion. In 2019, military families attended a private pregame event with Nationals closer, Sean Doolittle, who read aloud to the group following a Q&A with the children.

» IN-PARK RECOGNITIONS

Salute To Service

The Nationals offer premium seating for select military groups and their families during every home game. At the end of the third inning, honorees are recognized on NatsHD and receive a standing ovation.

Tickets are allocated through military hospitals and support organizations and are not available for individual distribution.

Families of Valor (TAPS)

Sean Doolittle, Howie Kendrick, and their families strive to make the Salute to Service experience as special as possible on days when the Nationals host surviving family members. During Salute to Service games that honor TAPS (Tragedy Assistance Program for Survivors) families, Sean and Howie invite the group to view batting practice from the field and meet with them privately before the game. Participants share stories of their lost loved ones, take photos with the players, receive autographs and a gift, and see pictures of their loved ones on NatsHD during the Salute.

YOUTH BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL

The Nationals are committed to promoting youth baseball and softball through Team UP, a progressive, multi-faceted Youth Baseball Uniform Program, hosting clinics, coordinating player visits, and recognizing significant youth baseball and softball championship achievements.

» Team UP

In 2015, the Nationals launched Team UP. In an ongoing effort to support and promote kids playing baseball and softball in the region, the Nationals continue to provide, at no cost, a Nationals T-shirt or jersey and cap to EVERY child playing baseball or softball in a District of Columbia or Northern Virginia-sanctioned youth baseball and softball league, and the District of Columbia Parks and Recreation Rookie League. In conjunction with Inova Health System, the program expanded in 2017 into Northern Virginia and now includes youth baseball organizations from Virginia District 4 Little League, Virginia District 10 Little League and Virginia District 7 Cal Ripken Babe Ruth. In 2020, the program will expand to include three Maryland RBI leagues, and youth programs from Quantico Marine Corps Base and Fort Belvoir.

By providing the uniforms at no cost to the leagues and families, the Nationals aim to break down and minimize financial barriers that can prevent kids from playing baseball and softball. Youth players are also given the opportunity to experience a Major League game at Nationals Park through a complimentary ticket offer, and connect with Nationals players when they visit the leagues during the season.

» WASHINGTON NATIONALS YOUTH BASEBALL CLINICS

Youth baseball and softball athletes from the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia, as well as local military children, take part in free clinics at Nationals Park throughout the season. Participants receive hands-on instruction from Nationals coaches and other baseball leaders, who offer tips on the art of batting, fielding, pitching and base running.

Inova Youth Baseball Clinics

The Nationals host a series of clinics as part of the team's efforts to increase participation and interest in baseball and softball. Nationals coaches lead the clinics designed for children ages 8-14. Clinics are free and include on-field instruction, a post-clinic autograph session with a Nationals player, and four tickets to a Nationals home game. Registration is not open to the public.

PLAY Clinic

Developed by the Professional Baseball Athletic Trainers Society (PBATS) in 2004, PLAY (Promoting a Lifetime of Activity for Youth) is designed to encourage youth throughout the country to be active, eat right, sustain a healthy lifestyle and stay away from performance enhancing drugs. During the clinic, local youth ages 8-12 participate in baseball training and receive lessons on health and conditioning from Nationals players and trainers as well as PLAY staff. Registration is not open to the public.

MLB Pitch, Hit and Run Competition

The MLB Pitch, Hit and Run (PHR) program provides children ages 7-14 the opportunity to showcase their baseball and softball talents in a free nationwide skills competition. The winners move on to the national finals at the MLB All-Star Game. Contact your local youth baseball or softball organization for further details.

Nationals pitchers Sean Doolittle and Anibal Sánchez served as player ambassadors for the 2019 reading programs and made appearances at kickoff events at local libraries, as well as at an event here at Nationals Park with young readers and families from the local military bases.

The ziMS Foundation raises money and awareness for programs benefiting those afflicted with Multiple Sclerosis. Multiple Sclerosis is a disease close to Ryan's heart. In 1995, his mother, Cheryl, was diagnosed with MS, a chronic and unpredictable disease that affects the central nervous system. » ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1972, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award (originally known as The Commissioner's Award) to the player who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement, and the individual's contribution to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was renamed to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and MLB Commissioner Rob Manfred, annually select a winner from a list of 30 nominees, one from each Major League Baseball club.

» HEART AND HUSTLE AWARD

Created by the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association in 2005, the Heart & Hustle Award is voted on by Alumni and active Major League players and is presented annually to an active player who demonstrates a passion for the game of baseball and best embodies the values, spirit and traditions of the game.

The MLBPA formed 30 committees, comprised of Alumni players with established relationships to each team. One player from each Major League team is chosen by the committees based on the passion, desire, and work ethic demonstrated both on and off the field. These players are recognized prior to a late-season home game. As the season draws to a close, fans, all Alumni, and active players vote to select the final winner from the 30 team nominees.

After his outstanding 2019 season - and his many heroics to the Nationals to the 2019 World Series Championship - infielder Howie Kendrick was named the winner of the Heart and Hustle Award by the MLBPA.

» BOB FELLER ACT OF VALOR AWARD

The Bob Feller Act of Valor Foundation, through the unique intersection of baseball and the US Navy, recognizes and honors those who support service men and women with the Bob Feller Act of Valor Award. The award uses Bob Feller's story to educate the youth of today on lessons of citizenship, service to one's country, and sacrifice in times of great national need. Teaching the legacy of the Greatest Generation to the youngest generation helps instill in them the virtues of service to others. Sean Doolittle was chosen as the league-wide, national winner in 2018.

THE NATIONALS AND THE USO TOUR

On several occasions, the Washington Nationals have been personally invited to join the General Martin E. Dempsey, former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on his annual Chairman's USO Holiday Tour. Nationals participants have included Aaron Barrett (2020) and Adam Eaton (2020), as well as former players Doug Fister (2014), Adam LaRoche (2013), Ross Detwiler (2012) and Craig Stammen (2012).

The trip is a whirlwind tour across several countries that is calculated down to the second. For safety reasons, little is known about the trips ahead of time. Past tours have included visits with service members all over the world, including Poland, Romania, Greece, Afghanistan, Italy, Germany, the United Kingdom, Turkey, Bahrain and Kyrgyzstan. Though it's an exhausting stretch of days, every participating player has returned home inspired and with a changed perspective.

"I'll tell you, this won't be my last USO tour. They've touched our hearts. They put their lives on the line over here every single day. Hopefully, we were able to put a smile on their faces."

-Adam Eaton, 2020

"It's humbling. It has been such an amazing journey to be able to give these men and women thanks and to tell them how much we appreciate what they do. We wouldn't be able to play this great game without them, and it's amazing."

-Aaron Barrett, 2020

"The Chairman's USO holiday tour really opened my eyes to the world—and the war. The sacrifice, the threats, the teamwork and chemistry needed between individuals, are just a few of the many things that we were shown throughout this experience."

-Doug Fister, 2014

"I can't say I ever really looked at the flag and thought, 'Somebody paid the price for that.' I will now. I hope it's going to be a lot easier to not take those things for granted like we typically do."

-Adam LaRoche, 2013

"This trip was truly life changing and I will never look at this war or the soldiers the same."

-Ross Detwiler, 2012

PHILANTHROPIC VISION

The Washington Nationals strive to become a civic partner to every Washingtonian interested in making a positive difference in our region and a leading philanthropic organization in professional sports.

In the spirit of #Nats4Good, Washington Nationals Philanthropies catalyzes the energy of Nationals fans and the generosity and philanthropic goals of Nationals players, corporate champions, and community partners to fuel even greater good for a better Washington. Our philanthropic platform allows our Nationals family and DMV residents and stakeholders to invest charitable dollars with us, through us, and to us with a common purpose to create tangible and positive impact on and in our community.

Philanthropic efforts are highlighted by our programmatic arm, the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy, which implements holistic youth development programming and hosts games and community events serving thousands of young people and other area residents throughout the year at its nine-acre education and recreation campus in Ward 7's Ft. Dupont Park.

Informed by continuous and thoughtful engagement with residents, community leaders, funders, local officials, and other stakeholders, our Office of Collective Impact invests time and resources into strategies that lead to holistic and coordinated community development outcomes for low-opportunity neighborhoods, including safe and affordable housing, first-class cradle-to-college education pipelines, and quality amenities and support services that promote community wellness.

Nationals Philanthropies also leverages the reach of our brand by activating Citizen-Fans through targeted calls to action that support local programs. A variety of activations managed by Nationals Philanthropies allow and encourage DMV residents to donate money and/or time to vetted organizations. Many such activations will involve partnership with Nationals Players, for whom Nationals Philanthropies provides dedicated support to achieve philanthropic objectives.

Nationals Philanthropies also continues to make grants to local non-profits and provide philanthropic support for projects designed to improve access to youth baseball and softball. Each of these donations and projects are aligned to create impact consistent with the civic leadership vision of #Nats4Good.

More updates about new projects, events, and initiatives will be available throughout the season. For information, please contact Shannon Donohoe at shannon.donohoe@nationals.com.

MORE ABOUT GRANT MAKING

» DELTA DREAM GRANTS

Nationals Philanthropies conducts the Delta Dream Grants program to provide monetary support for local organizations that implement direct services for children and teens in the Washington, D.C. region. Grants support nonprofit organizations doing work with a focus on academics, the arts, nutrition, and sports. Additional grants support nonprofits that refurbish youth baseball fields. Sponsored by Nationals corporate partner, Delta Air Lines, funds provide local organizations with targeted support for effective programming in accordance with the shared commitment of the Nationals and Delta Air Lines to give back to the communities where employees live and work. To date, more than $500,000 from Nationals Philanthropies and Delta have been granted to worthy organizations. Learn more at nationals.com/deltadreamgrants.

» WASHINGTON NATIONALS LEGACY FIELDS

Through the Legacy Field program, Nationals Philanthropies partners with local municipalities and other stakeholders to renovate youth baseball and/or softball fields in the Washington, D.C. region. Current and former Nationals players and other front office officials partner with Nationals Philanthropies to execute these projects. Thus far, fields have been named in honor of Ryan Zimmerman, Iván “Pudge” Rodríguez, and Bryce Harper.

» COMMUNITY IMPACT GRANTS

Additional grant-making activities have been aligned to create impact consistent with the civic leadership vision of Nationals Philanthropies. Leveraging dollars generated through fundraising levers such as corporate partnerships, in-park fundraising activities, citizen-fan activations, and more to demonstrate tangible community impact, in 2019 Nationals Philanthropies delivered more than $630,000 in grant funding to nonprofits. For example, in January 2019, Nationals Philanthropies delivered a $100,000 donation to the Capital Area Food Bank, closing its funding shortfall as a result of the government shutdown. With the support of the Nationals front office and through the advocacy of our players and their families, Nationals Philanthropies also activated the Nationals fan base to raise an additional $26,000 for the food bank in just one day.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS
YOUTH BASEBALL
ACADEMY

MISSION STATEMENT AND OVERVIEW

The signature program of Washington Nationals Philanthropies, the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy uses baseball and softball as vehicles to foster positive character development, academic achievement, and improved health among youth living in underserved communities in Washington, D.C.

Conceived as part of a public-private partnership between the District government and Major League Baseball in the deal that brought the Nationals to Washington, D.C., the Academy operates out of a state-of-the-art, nine-acre education and recreation campus constructed in the Ft. Dupont Park neighborhood in Ward 7. The Academy became its own 501c3 nonprofit in 2012, began programming in 2013, and opened its facility in 2014 – programs are designed to make a holistic and lasting impact on the lives of children and families living east of the Anacostia River.

In 2019, 160 third through eighth grade Scholar Athletes enrolled in the Academy's core enrichment program, more than 1,500 families joined adult education and community engagement activities, and more than 1,200 six-to-12-year olds participated in "YBA PLAY," a program designed to offer access for all young people to positive and life-changing experiences through baseball. Program participants consistently report that they are excited to come to Academy programs, trust their coaches and mentors, and show an increased belief that they will graduate from high school and go to college.

For more information visit www.nationalsacademy.org, or to arrange a visit to the Academy, please contact Moira Kennedy at moira.kennedy@nationals.com.

PROGRAMMING

The Academy opened in March 2014 and features an 18,000 square foot "education clubhouse" complete with seven classrooms, a teaching kitchen, and multi-purpose training and education space. The grounds include three lighted, turf fields – two multi-purpose youth baseball/softball diamonds and a full 90-foot diamond.

The culture at the Academy is grounded in the positive values of sports – instilling in our Scholar Athletes a love of physical activity as well as the qualities of determination, resiliency, teamwork, and goal setting. Our model depends on two cohorts of key personnel: a talented, committed staff of full- and part-time coaches and classroom coordinators who work with Academy youth each day, and community volunteers who serve as tutors, mentors, and coaches. The Academy and its partners train these committed individuals in positive coaching and education methodologies, allowing them to support Scholar Athletes in developing the skills necessary to reach their full academic potential and lead long and healthy lives. In addition to core programming modules, through the activities listed below, the Academy offers innovative, impactful engagements that improve educational, health, and social-emotional outcomes for children, families, and the community as a whole.

» BASE PROGRAM

Scholar Athletes who participate in base programming at the Academy are offered tutoring and academic support three days a week during the academic year. The program serves 160 third through eighth grade boys and girls each year. After-school programming provides direct academic support to Scholar Athletes through strategic partnerships with a number of D.C. Public and Public Charter schools. In addition, volunteer tutors and mentors offer Scholar Athletes one-on-one assistance with homework and skills development, as well as long-term assignments and projects.

Baseball/softball training is offered year-round to Scholar Athletes. During the academic year, Scholar Athletes participate in a mixture of practices, games and innovative drills developed specifically for players who are new to the game. Scholar Athletes are then able to test out their new abilities in games and scrimmages that happen multiple times per week.

During the summer months, the Academy program offers a full day experience to the same Scholar Athletes, combining a rigorous academic curriculum (which infuses Common Core math, science, and literacy standards) with experiential, on-field learning. The summer program also provides additional exposure to holistic food and nutrition education, field trips, and more.

» YBA PLAY

This program provides high-quality, structured, consistent, and fun developmental opportunities for youth to learn the games of baseball and softball. With a focus on underserved D.C. neighborhoods, “YBA PLAY” immerses youth ages six to 12 in the “The Academy Way” – a culture focused on effort, continual learning, teamwork, and a love of baseball/softball – by exposing them to multiple, relentlessly positive opportunities to learn the game. The program also identifies, recruits, trains, and supports community-based coaches, delivers additional exposure to holistic food and nutrition education, offers field trips, and more.

» COMMUNITY PROGRAMMING

The Academy aims to provide all members of our community with the opportunity to strengthen life skills and overcome the pervasive challenges that hinder their potential to succeed. Through our food education programs, community partners provide cooking and nutrition courses – emphasizing the use of locally-grown food and teaching habits that combat disease, poor health, and obesity. Another partner offers courses in financial wellness. Participants in these courses receive eight weeks of hands-on practice in real-life scenarios for budgeting, developing savings plans, and generating creative approaches to attacking debt.

2020 EVENTS AND FUNDRAISING CALENDAR

» ACADEMY GRADUATION – May 23

The graduating eighth grade class of Academy Scholar Athletes will participate in a ceremony at the Academy and be acknowledged at Nationals Park for their hard work and determination.

» MUSHBALL CLASSIC FUNDRAISERS - Legal Industry (June 27) & Fall Classic (Sept. 12)

These industry fundraising events at the Academy feature a fun and competitive tournament, family-friendly activities, food and drink, and professional networking while directly supporting the Academy's programs. Each tournament includes twenty corporate teams and hundreds of spectators.

» ACADEMY YEARBOOK DAY/PLAYER VISIT – Aug. 7

Nationals players visit the Academy to run drills with the Scholar Athletes, help them in the classroom, and hand out and sign their yearbooks.

» ACADEMY DAY at NATIONALS PARK – Aug. 15

Fans will learn about the Academy's work in Wards 7 and 8, meet our Scholar Athletes, staff, and mentors.

» FANTASY FOOTBALL SHOWDOWN – Aug. 30

The Showdown has become D.C.'s premier fantasy football event. A live fantasy football draft offers participants the unique opportunity to interact with their favorite Washington Nationals players and other local sports celebrities. All proceeds directly benefit Academy programs.

*Dates subject to change.

FRONT OFFICE
& OWNERSHIP

Dear Washington Nationals Fans,

Welcome to another season of Washington Nationals baseball! We are so excited to officially kick off our season as the defending "World Series Champion Washington Nationals!"

Before we turn to the season ahead, we wanted to take a minute to thank all of you again for your amazing support last season.

We appreciate how all of you poured your heart and soul into helping the team Finish the Fight.

You showed up in the rain and cold when the team was on the road; you showed your Nats pride wearing red and the Curly W all over the DMV; you joined us for the joyful parade celebration down Constitution Avenue, and you kept the celebration going throughout the winter – from trophy photos to new Winterfest memories!

The playoff atmosphere that you all created last fall at the ballpark, around the neighborhood, and across the DMV was electric! We need you to bring that same enthusiasm and passion – your Natitude – to Nats Park this season as we cheer on our team!

2020 will bring more thrilling baseball to Nationals Park, with a mix of old and new faces on the field. We made it a priority to bring back World Series MVP Stephen Strasburg and NLCS MVP Howie Kendrick, as well as familiar faces in Asdrúbal Cabrera, Daniel Hudson and, of course, the Face of the Franchise – Ryan Zimmerman.

Mike Rizzo and his staff again looked for veterans to fill some of the gaps in our roster this offseason. We are very excited about the additions of right-handed pitcher Will Harris (one of the best relievers in baseball the last three years), Starlin Castro (a professional hitter who always gave us fits as an opponent), and Eric Thames (a lefty with A LOT of pop).

These additions supplement the already incredibly talented group of players we have coming back. Max Scherzer is one of the best pitchers in the game, while rotation mates Patrick Corbin and Aníbal Sánchez fit right in during their first season in Washington last year. Juan Soto, Trea Turner, Kurt Suzuki, and Adam Eaton will continue to pace the offense and we cannot wait to see what Victor Robles has in store for us this season. His future is incredibly bright.

As we embark on the 2020 season – the 16th season of Nationals baseball – let's continue to savor how special 2019 truly was!

Thank you so much for your continued support of your team, and Go Nats!

FOUNDING PRINCIPAL OWNER

For a lifelong baseball fan who paid 25 cents to sit in the bleachers at Griffith Stadium to watch the Senators, and worked as an usher in the ballpark as a teenager, owning the Washington Nationals is the realization of a lifetime dream.

Since becoming the Managing Principal Owner of the Nationals on May 3, 2006, Ted Lerner and his family have worked non-stop to build the Nationals into a world-class baseball team in their hometown.

Knowing how important baseball is to the Nation's Capital, Ted Lerner and the Lerner family are dedicated to making the team a winner and Nationals Park a success for the fans.

Born and raised in Washington, D.C., Ted Lerner founded Lerner Enterprises in 1952, and it is the largest private real estate development company in the metropolitan Washington, D.C. area. Lerner Enterprises is based in Rockville, Md., and was voted Family Business of the Year by the Kogod School of Business at The American University in 1999, and in 2008 was named Visionaries of the Year and Most Influential Commercial Real Estate Company in the Washington area by Bisnow Real Estate. In February 2015, Transwestern awarded Lerner Enterprises the 2015 Private Company TrendSetter of the Year award for their dedication to growth and innovation in the Washington D.C., Maryland and Virginia region. He is a graduate of The George Washington University and has a law degree from The George Washington University National Law Center.

Mr. Lerner has served on the Board of Trustees and Executive Committee of The George Washington University. Two buildings have been donated to the University - the Annette and Theodore Lerner Family Health and Wellness Center and the Theodore N. Lerner Hall at the GWU National Law Center. Their private foundation, The Annette M. and Theodore N. Lerner Family Foundation, provides support to many local and international organizations, including the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, the Weizmann Institute of Science, Junior Achievement of the Greater Washington Area, Georgetown Day School, Charles E. Smith Jewish Day School, The Jewish Federation of Greater Washington, B'nai Brith Youth Organization (BBYO), Washington Hospital Center Foundation, the Anti-Defamation League, the Jewish Community Centers of Greater Washington and District of Columbia, Imagination Stage of Bethesda, Food and Friends, YouthAids, The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, and many more. Adding to this history of community involvement in the Washington area, the Lerner family is pleased to be able to expand their active participation in the region through the Washington Nationals Dream Foundation.

Mr. Lerner is a founding member of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. In 1990, the American Academy of Achievement awarded him the Golden Plate Award of Excellence. He was elected to the Washington Business Hall of Fame by Junior Achievement in 2003, in 2007 was honored as the charter inductee in The George Washington University School of Business Sports Executives Hall of Fame and the Jewish Community Center of Greater Washington Sports Hall of Fame, in 2014 he was inducted into the Washington D.C. Sports Hall of Fame and received the Thomas G. Corcoran Award by the University Club of D.C., and in 2015 he was awarded the Urban Land Institute Lifetime Achievement Award.

In November 2018, The Lerner · Cohen · Tanenbaum family received the Irene and Abe Pollin Humanitarian Award from the Bender Jewish Community Center of Greater Washington.

Lerner Family Foundation, which has distributed millions of dollars in the capital region.

Since 2007, the Dream Foundation has harnessed the power of baseball to deliver tangible opportunities for youth throughout the greater D.C. metro area. In 2014, the organization proudly opened the doors to the gleaming Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy, exponentially increasing those opportunities through the direct implementation of holistic programming. With a focus on children living in D.C.'s Wards 7 and 8, the nine-acre facility has three baseball/softball fields and a 16,000 square-foot clubhouse facility, including seven classrooms and a teaching kitchen for out-of-school-time enrichment and academic support. The foundation has also funded the construction of the Washington Nationals Diabetes Care Complex at Children's National Medical Center, which opened in 2013.

The foundation has long recognized the important role of local nonprofit organizations in the lives of children and teens. Each year, the organization makes tens of thousands of dollars in grants to local non-profits — a capacity that was expanded in 2016 through the Delta Dream Grants, sponsored by Delta Air Lines, which awards annual grants to local nonprofits that directly serve children and teens in the areas of academics, the arts, nutrition and sports.

MIKE RIZZO

PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS & GENERAL MANAGER

Mike Rizzo was the first and most significant hire made by the Lerner family after assuming control of the Nationals franchise in July of 2006. Brought on first as Assistant General Manager, Rizzo's arrival in The District signaled a renewed emphasis on amateur talent and building a successful organization from the bottom up.

Rizzo was promoted to President of Baseball Operations and General Manager on Aug. 1, 2013, continuing his swift ascension within the organization and reflecting his strong working relationship with the Lerner Family.

On April 5, 2018, Rizzo agreed to a two-year contract extension through the 2020 season. He enters the 2020 season as the fourth-longest tenured General Manager in Major League Baseball.

Rizzo had served the organization as Executive Vice President of Baseball Operations and General Manager for the previous two-plus years (since Oct. 19, 2010). Rizzo, who is also a member of the Board of Directors at the Nationals' Youth Baseball Academy, was appointed Senior Vice President and General Manager on Aug. 20, 2009, and has acted as the team's General Manager since earlier that year.

Under Rizzo's leadership, the Nationals are 938-843 (.527) since the start of the 2009 season. That marks the sixth-best record in Major League Baseball over the last 11 seasons. With a 2-0 win on July 24, 2019 vs. Colorado, Rizzo recorded his 900th win since taking over the club during 2009 Spring Training.

Since 2012, the Nationals are 730-566 (.562), the second-best regular season record in Major League Baseball over this span, behind only the Los Angeles Dodgers (757-540, .584).

In 2019 – after 11 seasons as the head of Washington's baseball operations – Rizzo guided the Washington Nationals to their first World Series title. On the stage at Minute Maid Park in Houston, Rizzo held the Commissioners Trophy and exclaimed:

"For our 94-year-old Owner, for my 90-year-old Dad – special assistant to the GM. To all of the scouts and player development people out there, to the players who make it all happen, we're World Champs tonight!"

And at the World Series parade a few days later, he reminded the hundreds of thousands that lined Constitution Avenue:

"To the Nationals fan base: You are the district of champions and I couldn't be more humbled to be the President of Baseball Operations and General Manager for this franchise."

Under Rizzo's leadership, the Nationals have transformed into one of Major League Baseball's perennially elite clubs, winning a World Series in 2019, earning four National League East titles (2012, 2014, 2016, 2017) and one Wild Card berth (2019) in the last eight seasons.

For his efforts in leading the Nationals, Rizzo has been honored with several awards during his tenure. He was named Executive of the Year by Baseball America and the Boston Chapter of the BBWAA in 2019. The Boston Chapter of the BBWAA also honored him with the same award following the 2012 season. He also garnered Executive of the Year honors in 2012 from the Pitch and Hit Club of Chicago, which followed 2011 Man of the Year honors from the Lido Civic Club of Washington, D.C.

En route to the World Series Championship, the 2019 Washington Nationals finished the regular season with a 93-69 (.574) record and were winners of the top Wild Card spot in the National League. The 2019 season marked Washington's eighth consecutive winning season, the fourth-longest active winning streak in Major League Baseball. Only the New York Yankees (27 seasons), St. Louis Cardinals (12 seasons) and the Los Angeles Dodgers (9 seasons) have longer active consecutive winning streaks in Major League Baseball.

Following the 2018 season, Rizzo and his baseball operations staff made 11 moves from October through February impacting the 40-man roster. The additions of catchers Kurt Suzuki and Yan Gomes, as well as pitchers Patrick Corbin and Aníbal Sánchez, brought talent, experience and leadership to Washington's roster. Rizzo brought first baseman Matt Adams back to Washington D.C. and added veteran second baseman Brian Dozier's steady glove and power bat to the lineup.

As the Nationals battled through the early portion of the 2019 season, Rizzo's additions of Gerardo Parra, Javy Guerra and Fernando Rodney helped stabilize the roster as the Nationals waited for their regulars to return from the Injured List. In early August, Rizzo signed a familiar face in Asdrúbal Cabrera to provide a switch-hitting, versatile infielder to help the Nationals down the stretch.

The 2019 Trade Deadline saw significant additions to Washington's roster, specifically the bullpen. As the deadline neared, Rizzo acquired Daniel Hudson from the Toronto Blue Jays, as well as Hunter Strickland and Roenis Elias from the Seattle Mariners. Rizzo acquired all three pitchers without surrendering any current Major League talent or top prospects.

Utilizing his systematic approach – making moves he feels will better the club for the immediate future, as well as the long-term – Rizzo has guided the Nationals to solidify their Major League team, in conjunction with the impeccable farm system that feeds it.

While scouting and player development have been hallmarks of Rizzo's approach, with 20 members of the 2019 roster homegrown, so too have been shrewd trades and free agent signings. Whether the deals have been to help build up the farm system, or to utilize some of that prospective talent to yield significant Major League contributors, Rizzo has proven himself a deft dealmaker.

Following the 2019 season, Rizzo and his baseball operations staff went to work assembling the 2020 Washington Nationals, making 12 moves impacting the 40-man roster:

- Nov. 20 – Selected the contract of left-handed pitcher Ben Braymer
- Dec. 8 – Signed free-agent right-handed pitcher Kyle Finnegan
- Dec. 9 – Signed right-handed pitcher Stephen Strasburg to a seven-year contract
- Dec. 10 – Signed infielder Howie Kendrick to a one-year contract
- Dec. 10 – Signed catcher Yan Gomes to a two-year contract
- Jan. 3 – Signed right-handed pitcher Will Harris to a three-year contract
- Jan. 7 – Signed infielder Starlin Castro to a two-year contract
- Jan. 8 – Signed first baseman Eric Thames to a one-year contract
- Jan. 8 – Signed infielder Asdrúbal Cabrera to a one-year contract
- Jan. 14 – Signed right-handed pitcher Daniel Hudson to a two-year contract
- Jan. 28 – Signed first baseman Ryan Zimmerman to a one-year contract
- Jan. 29 – Acquired right-handed pitcher Ryne Harper from the Minnesota twins

Over the course of Rizzo's tenure with the Nationals, there have been several seminal moments. Here are just a few:

- In November of 2009, Rizzo convinced Davey Johnson to sign on as Senior Advisor and help revamp the Nationals' on-field operations. In June of 2011, Rizzo appointed him field manager and Johnson stewarded the team to its first playoff appearance and through the 2013 season.
- On December 5, 2010, Rizzo signed right fielder Jayson Werth to a seven-year contract that immediately changed the perception of the Nationals, especially within the industry. Little more than a year later, Rizzo was instrumental in signing franchise cornerstone, Ryan Zimmerman, to a six-year contract extension.

- From 2009-12 Rizzo's Nationals won at least 10 more games than the season prior: 59 wins in 2009, 69 in '10, 80 in '11, 98 in '12. The last team to do this was the Boston Red Sox from 1906-09, making the Nationals the first team in over 100 years to complete such a feat without the benefit of an artificially deflated win total associated with a work stoppage.
- Solidifying arguably the best rotation on the Major Leagues, Rizzo and the Lerner Family signed 2013 American League Cy Young Award winner, right-handed pitcher Max Scherzer to a seven-year contract and introduced him to D.C. on January 21, 2015.
- In Dec. of 2015, Rizzo pulled off a three-team trade that yielded shortstop Trea Turner and right-handed pitcher Joe Ross from the San Diego Padres and sent outfielder Steven Souza Jr. to the Tampa Bay Rays.
- With the 2016 Baseball Winter Meetings taking place at nearby National Harbor, Md., Rizzo acquired outfielder Adam Eaton from the White Sox in December in exchange for top prospects Lucas Giolito, Reynaldo Lopez and Dane Dunning.
- With Washington ahead in the division by nearly 10.0 games following the 2017 All-Star break, Rizzo saw the opportunity to get a jump on the trade market as the non-waiver trade deadline was nearly two weeks away. On July 16 in Cincinnati, with the club trying to complete the four-game sweep of the Reds that afternoon, Rizzo fortified Washington's bullpen by acquiring relievers Sean Doolittle and Ryan Madson from the Oakland Athletics. From July 17 through the end of the season, the Nationals paced the National League with a 3.36 bullpen ERA.
- Rizzo was not finished improving the club in 2017, as he made two more deals as the deadline neared. On July 28, he solidified Washington's bench by acquiring veteran Howie Kendrick from the Philadelphia Phillies. Moments before the July 31 deadline, Rizzo strengthened Washington's bullpen even further with the acquisition of Minnesota Twins closer and American League All-Star, Brandon Kintzler.
- When Howie Kendrick went down with an Achilles injury on May 19, 2018, Mike Rizzo made the call to bring the 19-year-old Juan Soto to the Major Leagues. From that day Soto put together one of the best seasons by a teenager in Major League history.
- On Dec. 7, 2018, Rizzo inked the top free agent pitcher on the market, Patrick Corbin, to a six-year contract that immediately provided dividends in the 2019 regular season and on Washington's run to the 2019 World Series title.
- Rizzo continued to invest in starting pitching – the bedrock of his team building philosophy – by signing Stephen Strasburg to a seven-year contract in the winter of 2019. Although Strasburg opted out of his contract following the 2019 World Series, Rizzo convinced the World Series MVP to become a Washington National for life and solidify his mark on D.C. Baseball history.
- Other notable contributors Mike Rizzo has brought in via trade during his tenure include Gio Gonzalez, Tanner Roark, Blake Treinen, Mark Melancon, Wilson Ramos, Denard Span, Kurt Suzuki, Michael Morse, and Sean Burnett, among others.

Rizzo's impact on the organization has been wide-ranging and was felt immediately. The Nationals' 2007 First-Year Player Draft -- Rizzo's first with the organization -- was rated as the best in baseball by Baseball America. In the spring of 2008 as a newly appointed General Manager, Rizzo steadied the Nationals' operation in the Dominican Republic, moving their complex to Boca Chica. The team's Dominican operations have grown exponentially since that time.

Rizzo joined the Nationals after seven seasons with the Arizona Diamondbacks, primarily as Director of Scouting, where he helped transform the Diamondbacks farm system with exceptionally successful drafts. Following the 2005 campaign Rizzo was promoted to Vice President of Scouting Operations. That same year, the Diamondbacks were named Topps' Organization of the Year.

MIKE RIZZO // PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS & GENERAL MANAGER

Rizzo earned a World Series ring with Arizona in 2001, and the organization brought an astounding number of homegrown players through to the Major Leagues during his tenure. Brandon Webb (2006 Cy Young Award winner), Carlos Gonzalez, Chad Tracy, Justin Upton, Stephen Drew, Dan Uggla, Micah Owings, Tony Pena, Mark Reynolds, Conor Jackson, Miguel Montero, Chris Snyder, Carlos Quentin, Max Scherzer and Brett Anderson were all signed by Arizona under Rizzo's watch.

Rizzo, who is entering his 37th season of pro ball, joined the Diamondbacks in 1998. He previously enjoyed stints with the Boston Red Sox (1992-1998, area supervisor, international scout and major league advance scout) and the Chicago White Sox (1986-1992, Midwest and Southeast territorial scout). While with the White Sox, Rizzo signed 2014 Hall of Fame inductee and two-time American League MVP Frank Thomas.

Raised in Chicago, Rizzo is a third-generation scout. He learned the game from his father, Phillip, who spent 50 years in professional baseball, and his grandfather, Vito, who was a semi-pro player before founding the family business: scouting. Phil continued his scouting career with the Nationals as a Senior Advisor to the GM until his recent passing on February 1, 2020.

Rizzo spent four seasons as a minor league infielder in the Angels organization. Upon retiring as a player, he served as an assistant coach at the University of Illinois while earning a Bachelor of Arts in Communications.

Rizzo lives in Washington, D.C., with his wife, Jodi. His son, Michael Jr. works in the film industry in Los Angeles, Calif.

DOUG HARRIS

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER & VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

Doug Harris begins his 11th season with the Nationals, joining the organization on Oct. 16, 2009 after being appointed as the Director of Player Development. He shifted into his current role following the 2015 season, continuing his ascension in the organization. Harris was promoted to Assistant General Manager and Vice President of Player Development on Nov. 21, 2013, and the oversight of the Pro Scouting department was added to his duties on Dec. 23, 2014.

Harris brought with him more than 25 years of baseball experience as a player, amateur scout and professional scout, and he has overseen the Nationals' farm system for the previous eight seasons. With the additional responsibility of leading the organization's Pro Scouting efforts, Harris' role in the organization has expanded exponentially and significantly in a short amount of time — reflecting his profound impact.

Harris has been integral in the development of the Nationals' amateur players. Harris helped talents such as Bryce Harper, Anthony Rendon, Trea Turner, Michael A. Taylor, Brian Goodwin, Erick Fedde, Koda Glover, Wilmer Difo, among many others, see their development through to the Major Leagues.

Prior to joining the Nationals, Harris spent the 2009 season as a Major League scout and advance scout with the Cleveland Indians, but his lone season with the Indians came at the conclusion of 13 years with the Texas Rangers in various scouting capacities. Among the players Harris helped draft and sign during his time with the Rangers is former Major League outfielder Kevin Mench.

A right-handed pitcher, Harris was selected in the fourth round of the 1990 First-Year Player Draft by Kansas City and played seven professional seasons with three organizations, including the Royals, Baltimore Orioles and Florida Marlins. The Royals named Harris as the organization's 1991 Player of the Year after he posted a 2.39 ERA across Low and High Class-A.

Harris, attended James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Va., and currently resides in Carlisle, Pa., with his wife, Lisa, and three daughters: Alex, Sydney and Jordyn.

KRIS KLINE

A scout for more than 20 years, Kline has been with the Nationals since the fall of 2006. He spent his first three seasons in Washington first as a Special Assignment Scout, then as the Western Crosschecker.

Under his watch as the head of Washington's amateur scouting operation, the Nationals have drafted and signed 51 eventual Major Leaguers – an average of more than four big leaguers per draft from Ross Detwiler in 2007 (first round) to the most recent debuts of Carter Kieboom (first round), Tres Barrera (6th round) and Jake Noll (8th round) from the 2016 Draft. In addition to Detwiler, Kline has led drafts that yielded first-round talents and eventual Major League players Stephen Strasburg, Drew Storen, Bryce Harper, Anthony Rendon, Alex Meyer, Brian Goodwin, Lucas Giolito and Erick Fedde. Recent first-rounders include Seth Romero (2017), Mason Denaburg (2018) and Jackson Rutledge (2019).

Kline came to the Nationals after spending seven years with the Arizona Diamondbacks, the final three of which were spent as the Diamondbacks' Western Supervisor – where he worked under Nationals President of Baseball Operations and General Manager Mike Rizzo, then the Diamondbacks' Director of Scouting. Kline earned a World Series ring in 2001 as the Diamondbacks topped the New York Yankees in seven games.

During his time in Arizona, Kline was part of a scouting team that brought an astounding 75 players through the system to the Major Leagues.

Among the many players Kline has had a hand in drafting and signing are former Cy Young winner Brandon Webb, a Diamondbacks product, and right-hander John Lackey, who remains one of the youngest pitchers in history to win Game 7 of the World Series.

Before joining the Diamondbacks, Kline spent 10 years working for the California Angels as a scout after he completed his four-year professional playing career in their Minor League system.

NATIONALS NEWS

THE 2019 SEASON

The Washington Nationals completed their 15th season of baseball as the winners of the top Wild Card and second in the National League East... This marked the Nationals fifth Postseason appearance and first as one of two National League Wild Card winners.

- The Washington Nationals went 93-69 (.574), finishing the 2019 season with a winning record for the eighth consecutive season...Only the New York Yankees (27 seasons), St. Louis Cardinals (12 seasons) and the Los Angeles Dodgers (9 seasons) have longer active consecutive winning streaks in Major League Baseball.
- Since 2012, the Nationals are 730-566 (.562), the second-best regular season record in Major League Baseball over this span...The Los Angeles Dodgers have the best record (757-540, .584) since 2012.

12 UNDER .500 TO...

The Nationals became the ninth team in Major League Baseball history to come back from 12 games under .500 (19-31) to make the Postseason, according to the Elias Sports Bureau...In addition, their 93 wins were the most for a team that was 12 games under .500 at any point since the 1914 Boston Braves finished 94-59 after being 28-40 at one point.

MAY 24 AND EVERYTHING AFTER

The Nationals took the field at Nationals Park on May 24 with a 19-31 (.380) record...Washington's 12-10 win over the Miami Marlins that day was the start of an historic stretch that saw the Nationals put together the second-best record in MLB from that point through the end of the regular season.

- The 85-game stretch from May 24 to Sept. 1 in which the Nationals went 58-27 (.682) was the best 85-game stretch in Nationals history (2005-pres.).

- In 146 games, he set a Nationals record with 126 RBI and his 117 runs scored ranked third in Nationals history behind Alfonso Soriano (119 in 2006) and Bryce Harper (118 in 2009).

JUAN SOTO THINGS

Juan Soto once again put together an historic season for a player before turning 21 years old...His 34 home runs were tied for second-most by a 20-year old in Major League history behind Mel Ott (42 in 1929).

- Soto ranked in the National League in walks (3rd, 108), on-base percentage (5th, .401), OPS (6th, .949) and slugging percentage (12th, .548).

SHOULD BE COMEBACK PLAYER OF THE YEAR

After missing the majority of the 2018 season with a ruptured right Achilles, Howie Kendrick ranked first among Major League players with at least 370 plate appearances this season with a .344 batting average...He ranked among National League players (min. 370 PA) in on-base percentage (6th, .395), OPS (6th, .966), and slugging percentage (10th, .572).

TREA TURNER'S RETURN

Washington's shortstop authored a comeback story of his own in 2019...He was placed on the 10-day Injured List on April 3 with a broken right index finger...Returning from the Injured List on May 17, he led the National League with 150 hits while his 35 doubles were tied with Ozzie Albies for the most...He also ranked in the National League in runs scored (3rd, 92) and extra-base hits (T8th, 58) after his return.

- Turner capped the regular season with a season-high 12-game hitting streak dating to Sept. 17...He went 19-for-54 (.352) with six doubles, five homers, 10 RBI, two walks, three stolen bases, and 13 runs scored during this streak.

BACKSTOP BATS

Washington's pair of veteran backstops, Yan Gomes (90 GS) and Kurt Suzuki (70 GS), combined to start 160 of the 162 games in 2019.

- Between Gomes and Suzuki, the Nationals got 106 RBI from the catcher spot, tied for the second-most in the National League and the most out of the catcher spot in team history (2005-pres.)...The previous high was 98 RBI from the catchers on the 2008 Nationals.

- Stephen Strasburg (251), Max Scherzer (243) and Patrick Corbin (238) helped the 2019 Nationals become the first team in MLB history to have a rotation feature at least three players with at least 222 strikeouts...They were the first National League team since the 1969 Houston Astros (Larry Dierker/Tom Griffin/Don Wilson) to have three pitchers record at least 200 strikeouts.

ROLLIN' ROBLES

Washington's center fielder Victor Robles was one of just three players in Major League Baseball (only rookie) to record at least 33 doubles, 17 home runs and 28 stolen bases this season, joining teammate Trea Turner and Jonathan Villar.

- In the field, Robles led Major League center fielders with 12 outfield assists and according to StatCast, he led all of Major League Baseball at 21 Outs Above Average.

KEY ADDITIONS

Throughout the season, Mike Rizzo and his staff made key transactions to supplement the talent already on the club...Some of those key additions include:

- On May 9, the Nationals signed Gerardo Parra...His first hit as a member of the Nationals was a go-ahead grand slam on May 11 at Los Angeles (NL)...With the Nationals, Parra hit .373 (19-for-51) with six doubles, one triple, five homers and 38 RBI with runners in scoring position.
- At the 2019 Trade Deadline, the Nationals acquired Daniel Hudson from the Toronto Blue Jays and Hunter Strickland and Roenis Elias from the Seattle Mariners, bolstering Washington's bullpen for the final two months of the season.
- The Nationals signed Asdrúbal Cabrera on Aug. 6 and all the veteran infielder did was hit .323 with 10 doubles, one triple, six homers, 40 RBI, 19 walks, 18 strikeouts, and 24 runs scored in 38 games played...His 40 RBI from Aug. 6 through the end of the season were tied for third in the National League.

CONTACT INFO

According to FanGraphs.com, Washington led the National League (2nd in MLB) in Contact% (percent of pitches on which contact was made divided by swings)...Washington's 78.9% contact ranked behind only the Houston Astros (80.7%).

- Because of this high-contact, low strikeout approach (2nd fewest in the NL), Washington led the National League (2nd in MLB) in on-base percentage (.342) in 2019.

vs. LEFTIES

The Nationals posted a National League-best .357 on-base percentage against left-handed pitching in 2019...They trailed only the Houston Astros (.362) among MLB clubs in OBP vs. lefties...The Nationals also led the National League in batting average vs. lefties (.284) and ranked third in slugging (.475).

- The Nationals slash line of .284/.357/.475 was the best slash line vs. left-handed pitching in team history (2005-pres.).

TAKING BASES

The Nationals finished the season tied with the St. Louis Cardinals for the most stolen bases in the National League with 116.

- Trea Turner ranked second in the National League with 35 stolen bases while Victor Robles ranked fifth with 28 stolen bases.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

Griffith Stadium, located in Northwest D.C., was the home of the American League Washington Senators from 1911-1961. It was host to World Series Games in 1924, 1925 and 1933 as well as two Major League Baseball All-Star Games (1937, 1956). It also served as the home of the Homestead Grays of the Negro League during the 1940s. In 1965, Griffith Stadium was demolished to build the Howard University Hospital. BASEBALL RETURNS TO THE NATION'S CAPITAL - 2004

On Wednesday, Sept. 29, 2004, Major League Baseball selected the Washington, D.C. proposal as its choice for relocation of the Montreal Expos. Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig made the announcement. Relocation of the club was subject to certain contingencies, including a formal vote of ownership at the next owners' meeting in November and passage of legislation by the District of Columbia Council to provide for financing and construction of a ballpark on the Anacostia River waterfront in Southeast Washington. MLB also provided the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida the required notice of MLB's intent to move forward with relocating the team.

The D.C. agreement also included financing for the refurbishing of RFK Stadium, where the Washington, D.C. franchise played through the 2007 campaign.

"Washington, D.C., as our nation's capital, is one of the world's most important cities and Major League Baseball is gratified at the skill and perseverance shown by (then) Mayor Anthony Williams throughout this long process," Selig said. "There has been tremendous growth in the Washington, D.C. area over the last 33 years and we in Major League Baseball believe that baseball will be welcomed there and will be a great success."

Selig also said: "I would like to thank the representatives who worked on behalf of Northern Virginia, Norfolk, Va., Las Vegas, Nev., Portland, Ore., Monterrey, Mexico and others for devoting so much time and energy in their attempts to bring a Major League Baseball team to their communities."

At the time, Washington, D.C. was the largest market in the country in terms of population (5.4 million) and television market size (eighth) without a Major League Baseball team.

Even though Washington, D.C. baseball has a long history with the American League, the team plays in the National League East Division, which in fact marks a return to its baseball roots. The first Washington, D.C. franchise joined the National League in 1886 and was part of the NL, except for a two-year hiatus in 1890-91, until the National League contracted Washington and three other franchises in 1900.

But a year later, Ban Johnson organized the American League and included Washington, D.C. as one of its charter franchises. Although the original Senators were mostly mediocre throughout their history, they fielded one of the game's greatest all-time pitchers, Walter "Big Train" Johnson, and made three trips to the World Series, winning it in 1924 in a seven-game series against the New York Giants. In 1925, the Senators lost in seven games to Pittsburgh and lost in five games to the Giants in 1933.

The second incarnation of the Senators came in 1961 in the form of an expansion team. Like its predecessor, the Senators often finished in the second division and had only one winning season in their 11-year history. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE HISTORY OF BASEBALL IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

When the first professional baseball games were played in the nation's capital, the enduring symbol of freedom in America - the Statue of Liberty - was still two years away from being dedicated. There were 38 states in the Union and what would become the State of Oklahoma had yet to be settled. More than seven decades had passed since Washington, D.C. became the capital of the United States and baseball was quickly evolving into the National Pastime.

A Washington team was admitted to the National League in 1885 and played during the League's 10th professional season in 1886. Washington played 12 years in the National League - 1886-89 and 1892-99 - but was part of a four-team contraction in 1900 as the National League went from 12 franchises to eight.

Later that same year, former Western League president Ban Johnson was organizing a second Major League to compete with the National League and announced plans to include a franchise in the nation's capital. The new league was called the American League and began play in 1901.

This Washington franchise was awarded to James Manning and Detroit businessman Fred Postal. Manning retired later that year and Tom Loftus replaced him as the club's primary executive. The Senators finished in sixth place in 1901 with a 61-72 mark and would eventually be sold to an ownership group including Thomas C. Noyes, Benjamin Minor and Harry Rapley, among others.

The first of two individual tragedies struck the organization in only its third season as the Senators lost a key figure when future Hall of Fame outfielder Ed Delahanty was tragically killed in July 1903, when he was swept over Niagara Falls. Delahanty was the reigning American League batting champion and his sudden death took its toll on the team as the Senators finished the campaign with a 43-94 mark.

Effective for the 1905 campaign, the team name was changed to Nationals. Newspaper accounts used the names Senators and Nationals interchangeably for the next five decades.

While it took 12 years before the Nationals finished a season with a winning record, the signing of 20-year-old pitcher Walter Johnson in 1907 would signify a key moment in the franchise's history. Under first-year manager Clark Griffith, the 1912 Washington club posted a 91-61 mark and ended up in second place, 14 games behind the eventual World Champion Boston Red Sox.

Johnson appeared in a remarkable 50 games that year - 37 as a starter - and went 33-12 with a league-leading 1.39 ERA and 303 strikeouts. The following year he was even better as he led the Nationals to their second consecutive 90-win season. The "Big Train" went 36-7 with 11 shutouts and a 1.14 ERA, which still stands today as one of the lowest ERAs by a starting pitcher in a single season.

In 1912, 40 year-old team president Thomas C. Noyes fell ill to pneumonia and eventually succumbed to the disease. Noyes had been instrumental in the franchise's improvements since he took over and was replaced as team president by Minor, a prominent Washington attorney. Minor, unable to devote the necessary time to the club, subsequently sold the controlling interest to Griffith and Philadelphia businessman William Richardson in 1919.

Following a 75-78 season in 1923, Griffith made a controversial decision by appointing 27-year-old second baseman Stanley "Bucky" Harris as field manager. Harris was the fifth manager in the previous five seasons for the Nationals, but he guided one of the great reversals in baseball history as the Nationals won more games in 1924 than ever before, 92, and captured their first American League pennant.

In the 1924 World Series, the Nationals took on famed manager John McGraw and the New York Giants. The Series was one of the closest in history as four games were decided by a single run, including the deciding Game Seven. On the strength of Walter Johnson's four innings of relief pitching - on two days' rest - and the series-clinching hit by Earl McNeely in the bottom of the 12th inning, the Nationals won their first and only World Series Championship.

United States President Calvin Coolidge, who threw out the ceremonial first pitch on three occasions during the series, paid tribute to the hometown victors immediately following the triumph:

"I have only the heartiest praise to bestow upon the individual players of both teams. Naturally, in Washington, we were pleased to see Walter Johnson finish the final game, pitching for our home team. Everybody was pleased to see him come back at the close of the last game. The three contests I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill, and every evidence of high-class sportsmanship which will bring to every observer an increased respect and confidence in our national game."

The following year, Harris once again led the Nationals to a record regular season finish as they posted 96 wins and clinched a second-straight American League pennant. Their second trip to the World Series was just as close, but this time they came up short in a seven-game series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Senators had a 7-6 lead entering the bottom of the eighth in Game Seven, but could not hold it as the Pirates scored three runs in the inning off Johnson and held on to clinch the series victory.

Johnson concluded his amazing 21-year playing career with the Nationals in 1927 with career totals of 417-279, a 2.36 ERA, 3,508 strikeouts and a big league-record 110 shutouts. He was among the first class of inductees into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, in 1936.

The "Big Train" was not gone from the Washington scene long, as Griffith brought him back to replace Harris as the Nationals' manager in 1929. Despite posting three straight 90-win seasons, Johnson was removed from his post after the 1932 season and replaced by Joe Cronin, the team's 26-year-old shortstop.

Cronin's first season with the Nationals produced the franchise's best regular season mark ever at 99-53 and its third American League pennant. Washington again faced the New York Giants in the Fall Classic but fell in five games to a team led by the pitching of Carl Hubbell (20 IP, 0 ER) and the hitting of Mel Ott, who clinched the series for New York with a 10th-inning homer in Game Five.

The Nationals franchise then fell on hard times. Washington won just 66 games in '34 and the team posted only two more winning seasons over the next 25 years. The team name was officially changed to Senators for the '56 campaign.

Calvin Griffith, who became team president after his father's death in 1955, was granted permission to seek relocation in Sept. 1960, and an announcement was made in Oct. 1960 that the Senators were moving to Minneapolis, Minn.

At that time, the American League announced plans to expand by two teams for the 1961 season. One team would be located in Los Angeles and the other in Washington, D.C.

The expansion Senators fared no better than their predecessors, as they lost at least 100 games in each of their first four seasons. In 1964, the Senators acquired five players in a deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Claude Osteen. One of those five players was slugging outfielder and the 1960 National League Rookie of the Year, Frank Howard.

An imposing presence at 6-7, 250 lbs., Howard brought a much-needed offensive punch to the Senators lineup and the Senators win total increased in each of his first three seasons in Washington. After struggling again in 1968, new team president Robert Short brought in Hall of Fame outfielder Ted Williams as the new manager of the Senators.

Howard and his teammates responded to the "Splendid Splinter" during his rookie managerial campaign as Washington's win total improved 21 games to 86 in 1969. It was also Howard's best year in the Majors, as he batted .296 with 48 home runs, 111 RBI and 111 runs scored and finished fourth in the balloting for American League Most Valuable Player.

Unfortunately, the team was unable to build upon their success in '69. The Senators lost 92 games in '70 and 96 in '71. On Sept. 21, 1971, owners approved the transfer of the Senators to Arlington, Tex., where the franchise became the Texas Rangers.

After 71 years in the American League and nearly 100 since the debut of professional baseball in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., hosted its "final" regular season game on Sept. 30, 1971 at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE CATCH

Who made the most famous catch in the history of the World Series? Some might reference Willie Mays' over-the-shoulder catch in '54, but when considering intrigue, it is tough to top Sam Rice's catch in Game 3 of the 1925 World Series against the Pirates.

On Oct. 10, 1925, Rice (HOF '63) was patrolling Griffith Stadium's right field for the AL Nationals. In the eighth inning, Rice made a dynamic catch of a would-be Earl Smith game-tying home run. Upon making the catch, Rice toppled over the fence and disappeared from sight. When Rice reappeared and showed the ball, umpires ruled that the catch had been made on the field of play and that Smith was out.

After the game, Rice was coy about his heroic catch. He later turned down numerous requests for interviews, some for money. Rice never disclosed any information about the catch. Instead, he wrote a letter that was opened only after his death in 1974. The contents of the letter said, "At no time did I lose possession of the ball." Washington eventually lost the Series, however, in seven games.

May 19, 1918	Washington defeats Cleveland, 1-0 in 18 innings, in the first Sunday baseball game played in Washington, D.C. Reportedly, a crowd of more than 15,000 are in attendance at American League Base Ball Park.

They are led by Hall of Famers Josh Gibson, Cool Papa Bell and Buck Leonard, under the guidance of Hall of Fame owner Cumberland Posey.
Nov. 5, 1940	Walter Johnson was defeated as a Republican candidate in his run for a U.S. House of Representative seat from the State of Maryland.
May 28, 1941	The Washington Nationals host the New York Yankees at Griffith Stadium in the first night game ever held in Washington, D.C. NAME GAME

At a ceremony held Nov. 22, 2004 in the historic Main Hall at Union Station, (then) team president Tony Tavares announced the new Washington MLB franchise would be named the Washington Nationals and the color scheme would consist of red, white and blue.

The Nationals moniker had previously served two other Washington baseball franchises. A team called the Nationals first played in the District during the 1870s and 1880s, and a second American League team played at Griffith Stadium from 1901 until 1956. Owner Calvin Griffith then officially changed Washington's name to Senators for the 1957 season.

The name was selected based on an evaluation of a myriad of factors, including data collected through local focus groups and other forms of research.

WASHINGTON, D.C. BALLPARKS

Pro baseball teams were formed in our nation's capital beginning in the early 1870s and those franchises played their games in ballparks commonly known as Swampoodle Grounds, Capitol Grounds and Boundary Field.

In 1892, the Washington Senators joined the expanding National League and began playing their home games at a site that would host professional baseball games into the early 1960s. From 1892-99, the Senators played at National Park, which had a seating capacity of approximately 6,500. Although never finishing above sixth place, the team drew fairly well, including more than 200,000 fans in 1896.

When the National League contracted from 12 franchises to eight following the 1899 season, the team was disbanded. However, it would only be two seasons before a professional team occupied that site again.

During those two years, former Western League president Ban Johnson was working to put together a second Major League to rival the NL. In 1901, the American League began play with eight franchises, including the Washington Nationals.

This franchise would play its home games on the same site as the previous National League Washington team, but the ballpark was appropriately renamed American League Base Ball Park and the capacity was expanded to nearly 10,000.

On March 17, 1911, tragedy struck the American League Base Ball Park. The all-wooden ballpark and four surrounding buildings were completely destroyed by a fire started by a plumber's blow lamp and a strong wind. American League Base Ball Park could not be saved as plumbers working on the park's drain pipes had shut off the water supply and by the time firefighters arrived, the grand stand and bleachers were engulfed in flames. At the time, the loss of the ballpark was estimated at $20,000.

Thomas C. Noyes, president of the Washington franchise, gained approval from the Board of Directors to announce that work would begin immediately on a new ballpark with a steel grandstand. With the players at Spring Training and Opening Day less than a month away, crews worked tirelessly to get the ballpark ready for the home opener.

By Opening Day 1911, the grandstands were sufficiently erected for the Nationals to host the Boston Red Sox with President William Howard Taft in attendance. The work on the ballpark continued when the team was on the road and was completed on July 24, 1911 at a final cost of approximately $100,000. Seating capacity was more than 27,000, including a presidential box near the first base dugout.

In 1920, the American League Base Ball Park was renamed Griffith Stadium in recognition of the franchise's owner and president, Clark Griffith. The only major alteration to the ballpark was also made in 1920 as the double-decked stands were extended from the bases to the foul poles.

During the late-1930s and 1940s, Griffith Stadium had another part-time tenant - the famed Homestead Grays of the Negro Leagues. Originally from Pennsylvania, the Grays played half of their games at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh and half at Griffith Stadium when the Washington franchise was on the road. Some of the most revered players in Negro League history played for the Grays, including Josh Gibson, Buck Leonard, Cool Papa Bell and Sam Bankhead, as they won nine Negro League championships.

Griffith Stadium, which also hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1937 and 1956 and three World Series in 1924, 1925 and 1933, remained the home of the Washington franchise until it was moved to Minneapolis following the 1960 season.

The expansion Washington Senators played their inaugural season at Griffith Stadium in 1961 before moving into District of Columbia Stadium for the 1962 season.

After having been the site of professional baseball in Washington, D.C., since 1892, the final game at Griffith Stadium was played on Sept. 21, 1961 as the Senators fell to Minnesota, 4-3, before a crowd of 1,498 fans. Griffith Stadium was demolished in 1965 and the land is now utilized by Howard University. Nearly 1,000 of the original seats from Griffith Stadium were moved to a Spring Training facility near Orlando, Fla., Tinker Field.

A federally-owned stadium, District of Columbia Stadium was a new three-tiered, multi-purpose facility constructed near the Potomac River at a cost of approximately $24 million. The Senators signed a 10-year lease on September 29, 1961 with the D.C. Armory Board for the stadium, which had a seating capacity of 45,016.

On April 9, 1962, the Senators played their first regular season game at District of Columbia Stadium. A crowd of 42,143 - including President John F. Kennedy — saw Senators pitcher Bennie Daniels defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-1. Interestingly enough, Daniels suffered the loss at both the final game at Ebbets Field in 1957 and the final game at Griffith Stadium in 1961.

Under the direction of the D.C. Armory Board, the stadium was officially renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium on January 18, 1969.

The 1969 Major League Baseball All-Star Game was the fourth hosted by the Senators and the second at RFK Stadium (also first game in 1962). Despite the American League dropping a 9-3 decision to the National League, Washington fans saw future Hall of Famer Willie McCovey hit a pair of homers and hometown favorite Frank Howard hit one as well.

In 1971, the Senators played their final season at RFK Stadium before moving to Arlington, Tex. The final regular season Major League Baseball game was played at RFK on September 30, 1971. Washington hosted the New York Yankees before a crowd of just 14,460 in a game that was never finished. The Senators were holding on to a 7-5 lead with two outs in the top of the ninth inning when fans rushed the field. The umpiring crew could not clear the field and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9-0, per MLB forfeit rules.

HISTORY & RECORDS

RFK Stadium hosted 16 exhibition games involving Major League teams after the Senators moved in 1971. A portion of the proceeds from most of the games was donated to various charities. Attendance at the 16 contests averaged more than 27,600 per game. Following is a listing of those games:

On March 14, 2006, Washington, D.C. Mayor Anthony Williams, the D.C. Sports & Entertainment Commission and the Washington Nationals unveiled plans for a 41,000-seat state-of-the-art baseball stadium located in Southeast D.C. Seven weeks later, on May 4, ground was officially broken on the ballpark site. Washington opened Nationals Park on March 30, 2008 with a 3-2 win over Atlanta, televised nationally on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball. President George W. Bush threw the ceremonial first pitch, then Ryan Zimmerman led the club to victory with a game-ending solo shot in the ninth inning.

CAPITAL PUNISHER

Frank Howard blasted 237 of his 382 career home runs during his seven-year tenure with the Senators from 1965-71. Only Ryan Zimmerman (264) has hit more long balls while representing Washington D.C. Roy Sievers is third with 180.

"Hondo" came to D.C. on Dec. 4, 1964 via a seven-player trade with the Dodgers that also netted Ken McMullen, Phil Ortega, Dick Nen and Pete Richert in exchange for John Kennedy, Claude Osteen and $100,000.

A love affair between player and town began almost immediately, as teammates, media and fans alike marveled at Howard's tape-measure home runs, many of which taunted cavernous D.C. Stadium's dimensions.

Howard's 172 homer runs from 1967-70 were the most in MLB in that span, as Hall-of-Famers Harmon Killebrew and Willie McCovey tied for second with just 151.

Howard eventually represented the Senators in four Mid-Summer Classics and led the American League in home runs twice (44 in both 1968 and '70). "The Capital Punisher" also paced the AL in RBI (126) and walks (132) in 1970.

THE TRADITION OF OPENING DAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Each Major League Club has its own unique celebration to mark the opening of the Major League Baseball season, but Opening Day in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., was always a special and sometimes historic event. Washington, D.C.'s Opening Day tradition dates to April 14, 1910. William Howard Taft, the 27th President of the United States, attended the home opener of the Washington Senators against the Philadelphia Athletics. Numerous other government officials, including Vice President James Sherman, joined President Taft at the ballpark.

An overflow crowd of 12,000 fans—the largest baseball crowd in Washington at that time—gave President Taft a standing ovation as he made his way to his seats on the first-base side. Team president Thomas C. Noyes then took the two managers—Washington's Jimmy McAleer and Philadelphia's legendary Connie Mack—to meet the President.

Just prior to the start of the game, umpire Billy Evans walked over to President Taft's box and presented him with a new baseball. Evans instructed President Taft that he was to throw the ball from his seat in the stands to Senators pitcher Walter Johnson, who was standing at home plate, to officially commence the start of the American League championship season. After giving the ball briefly to First Lady Helen Taft, the President adjusted his gloves and made a good throw to Johnson, who immediately gave the ball to catcher Charles Street to have it secured in a safe place.

President Taft watched the entire game, a 3-0 Washington victory in which Johnson hurled a one-hit, complete-game shutout. After the game, Johnson sent the historic ball to the White House accompanied by a note to President Taft asking for his autograph on the ball. President Taft returned the ball after penning the following on it:

"For Walter Johnson, with the hope that he may continue to be as formidable as in yesterday's game. William H. Taft."

Although President Taft was the first to throw out a ceremonial first pitch, it was not the first time a President of the United States attended a Major League Baseball game. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd U.S. President, is believed to be the first sitting President to attend a Major League game when he witnessed a NL game between Cincinnati and Washington in June 1892. That wasn't even the first interaction with a professional baseball team as nine years earlier President Chester A. Arthur welcomed the Cleveland franchise of the National League to the White House.

Having the President throw out the ceremonial first pitch at Washington's home opener was such an enormous success—not only in the nation's capital but around the country—that it led to the American League granting Washington permission to open the American League championship season one day before the rest of the League. This action was approved on December 13, 1927, in recognition of the U.S. President throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

Including President Taft's precedent-setting throw in 1910, 12 different Presidents attended a home opener of the Washington Senators a total of 46 times. The Senators posted a 23-23 mark in home openers with a President present.

President Taft (2-0) and Woodrow Wilson (3-0), the 28th U.S. President, were the only two to never see the Senators lose. The only U.S. Presidents never to see Washington win a home opener were Lyndon Johnson (0-3), Richard Nixon (0-2) and Barack Obama (0-1). Following is the breakdown of Washington's record on Opening Day, listed by President:

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES	WASHINGTON'S RECORD ON OPENING DAY
Woodrow Wilson (D)	3-0 (1,000)
William Howard Taft (R)	2-0 (1,000)
George W. Bush (R)	2-0 (1,000)
Calvin Coolidge (R)	3-1 (.750)
Warren Harding (R)	2-1 (.667)
Dwight Eisenhower (R)	4-3 (.571)
Franklin Roosevelt (D)	4-4 (.500)
Harry Truman (D)	3-4 (.429)
John F. Kennedy (D)	1-2 (.333)
Herbert Hoover (R)	1-3 (.250)
Barack Obama (D)	0-1 (.000)
Richard Nixon (R)	0-2 (.000)
Lyndon Johnson (D)	0-3 (.000)
TOTAL	25-24 (.510) Democrats 11-14 (.440), Republicans 14-10 (.583)

Prior to the Senators move to Texas in 1972, each President since Taft was in attendance for a Washington Senators home opener at least once. Several Presidents had to miss on occasion, including President Taft in 1912 because of the sinking of the Titanic and President Wilson in 1918 and 1919 because of World War I.

Since 1972, the tradition of Presidents and Opening Day has continued in other Major League cities. The only President to never throw out a ceremonial first pitch at an Opening Day game was Jimmy Carter. President George W. Bush threw out the ceremonial first pitch at RFK Stadium on April 14, 2005 to usher the return of baseball to the nation's capital, then again to open Nationals Park on March 30, 2008. President Barack Obama continued the tradition on April 5, 2010, throwing out the first pitch prior to the Nationals' season opener vs. Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE WORLD SERIES (SEE PAGES 9-12 FOR DETAILED LOOK AT 2019 WORLD SERIES)

Washington, D.C. has hosted four World Series, with the original Washington (AL) Nationals claiming the 1924 World Championship and the 2019 Washington Nationals winning the 2019 World Series. Washington needed seven games to top heavy favorites in both Fall Classics. The 1924 New York Giants were appearing in their eighth World Series in 14 seasons and was managed by John McGraw. The Nationals won despite Walter Johnson losing each of his first two starts. However, Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings as Johnson came out of the 'pen to earn the win in Game 7. The 1924 World Series remains the second of only five World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive seventh game.

The Washington (AL) Nationals would go on to play in two more Fall Classics, losing both. As defending World Champions in 1925, the Nationals won 92 games and claimed another AL Pennant, but lost to Pittsburgh in seven games. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson squandered a 4-0 lead after the first inning and eventually suffered the loss. The New York Giants provided payback for the 1924 Series by claiming the 1933 World Series over the AL Nationals in five games.

POSTSEASON HISTORY (AL NATIONALS)

The AL Nationals claim their first of three AL pennants and lone World Championship. The AL Nationals finished the regular season with a 92-62 (.597) mark and a 2.0-game lead over the second-place Yankees (89-63). The AL Nationals won a memorable seven-game World Series over the heavily-favored New York Giants, who were competing in their eighth Fall Classic in 14 seasons. The series is best remembered for Game 7. The Giants led, 3-1, in the eighth, but Freddie Lindstrom's critical error on a routine grounder allowed the AL Nationals to send the game to extra innings. Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings with Walter Johnson earning the win with 4.0 scoreless innings of relief. Earl McNeely's RBI double with one out in the 12th plated Muddy Reul, who had doubled earlier in the decisive inning that included a pair of Giants errors. While pitching in a starting role, Walter Johnson took the loss in both Games 1 and Game 5. Three of Washington's four wins in the Fall Classic were of the one-run variety. The 1924 World Series remains one of only five World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive seventh game.

As defending World Champions in 1925, the AL Nationals won 92 games and claimed another AL flag, but lost to Pittsburgh in a seven-game Fall Classic. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson and the AL Nationals squandered a 4-0 first-inning lead and eventually suffered the loss. In Game 3, Sam Rice made the most intriguing catch in World Series history. Rice was patrolling Griffith Stadium's right field for the AL Nationals when, in the eighth inning, he made a dynamic catch of a would-be Earl Smith game-tying homer. Rice toppled over the fence in doing so and disappeared from sight. When Rice reappeared and showed the ball, umpires ruled he had successfully made the catch. Following the game, Rice was coy about the catch and penned a letter that was opened only after his death in 1974. The letter simply said, "at no time did I lose possession of the ball."

The '33 AL Nationals earned a Postseason berth, going an MLB-best 99-53 (.651) and claiming the AL Championship by 7.0 games over the 91-win Yankees. Washington's pitching staff included a pair of 20-game winners: General Crowder (24 wins) and Earl Whitehill (22). However, the heavily-favored AL Nationals struggled offensively in the Fall Classic, plating two runs or less thrice and hitting a collective .214 with just two home runs in five games. Mel Ott's solo shot in the top of the 10th snapped a 3-3 tie as the Giants claimed both Game 5 and the World Championship.

POSTSEASON HISTORY (EXPOS/NATIONALS)

In a season marred by a six-plus week labor stoppage, the Montreal Expos record a 30-23 (.566) mark in the season's second half to earn Montreal's lone Postseason berth in 36 National League seasons. The Expos finished 0.5-game ahead of the Cardinals in the second-half standings (Montreal played one extra game). Montreal matched up against the Phillies in the NLDS and won a decisive Game 5 as Steve Rogers tossed a six-hit shutout to outperform Steve Carlton for the second time in the series. The Expos' dreams of hosting the first World Series games outside of the United States were dashed, however, as Rick Monday hit a ninth-inning solo shot off Rogers to provide the Dodgers a 2-1 win in Game 5 of the NLCS. To this day, October 19 is still referred to as "Blue Monday" in Montreal.

2012

Eight years after landing in D.C., the Washington Nationals claimed their first Postseason berth by winning the NL East with a 98-64 record. En route to posting the 98 victories and the best winning percentage (.605) in MLB, the Nationals became the first baseball team representing the nation's capital to reach the Postseason since the AL Nationals won the American League pennant in 1933. In the NLDS, the Nationals squared off against the defending World Champion St. Louis Cardinals, who survived MLB's first one-game Wild Card playoff game at Turner Field thanks to a controversial infield fly ruling. Washington stole Game 1 behind rookie Tyler Moore's two-run pinch-hit single, which erased a 2-1 deficit with two outs in the eighth inning. The October-tested Cardinals rebounded in Games 2 and 3 with resounding victories. Game 4 rendered one of the great Postseason games in D.C. history when, with the game tied 1-1, Jayson Werth led off the bottom of the ninth with a game-ending homer that came on the 13th pitch of his epic at-bat. The collective euphoria following Werth's bolt evaporated just 24 hours later as the Nationals squandered 6-0 (after three innings) and 7-5 (after eight innings) leads before losing the decisive contest, 9-7.

For the second time in three years, the Washington Nationals were crowned National League East Division champions, recording the best record in the National League at 96-66. The Nationals finished the season 17.0 games ahead of the second-place Braves and Mets. In the NLDS, Washington faced off against San Francisco, who survived a one-game Wild Card playoff, topping Pittsburgh in the Steel City. The Nationals dropped the first two games at home, including an 18-inning affair that would turn out to be the longest postseason game in MLB history. Brandon Belt's solo home run in the 18th gave the Giants the 2-1 lead for good. Washington won Game 3 thanks to a three-run seventh inning in which they plated two runs on a throwing error by Madison Bumgarner. In Game 4, the Giants scored the eventual go-ahead run in the seventh inning when Aaron Barrett's 2-1 pitch skipped away from Wilson Ramos, allowing Joe Panik to score. Bryce Harper clubbed three home runs in the series, giving him four career Postseason homers before the age of 22, joining Andruw Jones, Miguel Cabrera and Mickey Mantle as the only players in baseball history to do so.

In his first season at the helm, Dusty Baker led the Washington Nationals to their third National League East Division title in the last five years. The 2016 Nationals did so with a balanced attack and a steady approach, with an average of 15.8 wins per month and a 95-67 (.586) final regular-season record, the second-best mark in the National League (Chicago Cubs: 103-58, .640) and tied with the Texas Rangers for the second-best record in Major League Baseball. Washington faced off against the National League West Division champion Los Angeles Dodgers in the NLDS. Jose Lobaton's three-run home run in the fourth inning of Game 2 propelled the Nationals to the 5-2 win, evening the series, 1-1. In Game 3, Washington scored four runs in both the third and ninth innings to take control of the series with an 8-3 win. In Game 4, Postseason veteran Chase Utley capped a back-and-forth affair with an RBI single in the bottom of the eighth to put the Dodgers ahead, 5-4, and in Game 5, Kenley Jansen (2.1 IP, H, 4 BB, 4 SO) and Clayton Kershaw (SV, 0.2 IP, SO) came out of the bullpen to shut down the Nationals in the final three innings and claim the series. Daniel Murphy reached base safely in every game of the NLDS, running his streak to 19 straight Postseason games. The 19-game Postseason on-base streak is the second-longest to start a Postseason career in MLB history behind Boog Powell (25 games, 1966-71).

The Washington Nationals claimed their second consecutive National League East title and fourth in the last six years. Their 97-65 (.599) regular-season record was the second-best mark in the National League (Los Angeles Dodgers: 104-58, .642) and the fourth-best record in all of Major League Baseball. At 50-31 (.617), the Nationals owned the best road record in the NL this season, as well as a new franchise record (Nationals/Expos) for road wins in a single season (50). The 50 road wins were the most for any National League team since the 2011 Philadelphia Phillies also went 50-31. Washington took over sole possession of first on April 18 and did not relinquish it for the remainder of the season, ultimately winning the division by a 20.0-game margin. The Nationals faced off against the National League Central division champion Chicago Cubs. After dropping Game 1, the Nationals topped the Cubs, 6-3, in dramatic fashion in Game 2. Trailing 3-1 in the eighth inning, Bryce Harper clubbed a two-run home run to tie the game at 3-3 and three batters later, Ryan Zimmerman put Washington ahead 6-3 with a towering three-run home run. Facing defeat in Game 4, Stephen Strasburg pushed aside a virus that had made him ill for much of the week to rack up 12 strikeouts (re-setting his own Postseason franchise record (Nationals/Expos) for single-game strikeouts) over 7.0 scoreless innings as the Nationals won, 5-0. A dramatic back-and-forth affair in Game 5 eventually led to the 9-8 Cubs victory, advancing them to the 2017 National League Championship Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE NO-HITTER

Throughout the history of baseball in the nation's capital, four pitchers have accomplished the feat of completing a no-hitter. Walter Johnson, Bobby Burke, Jordan Zimmermann and Max Scherzer made their mark in D.C. baseball history with performances detailed below.

Walter Johnson

Bothered by what fans and media would later learn to be a "sore arm," Walter Johnson (H.O.F. 1936) tossed the only no-hitter of his Hall of Fame career on July 1, 1920 in a 1-0 win over the Boston Red Sox. Johnson struck out 10 batters and faced just one over the minimum due to a Bucky Harris' error, allowing Boston's Harry Hooper to reach base in the seventh inning. With two outs in the ninth inning, Hooper again stepped to the plate. He connected on a hard ground ball down the first-base line that many thought would be a base hit. Nationals first baseman Joe Judge made a leaping stab and threw to a covering Walter Johnson to record the final out. Writer Denman Thompson wrote in The Evening Star the following day that Johnson:

"...earned it solely on the strength of his superb hurling. It is doubtful if Walter ever displayed more speed. He did not depend upon his fast ball entirely. He used plenty of curves and also resorted to slow balls upon occasion, but when he chose to he lined the ball over the plate with such velocity that it was physically impossible for a human to gauge its flight."

Bobby Burke

With Walter Johnson patrolling the dugout as Manager of the 1931 Nationals, Bobby Burke recorded the second no-hitter in D.C. baseball history on August 8th, 1931 in a 5-0 win over the visiting Boston Red Sox at Griffith Stadium in Washington, D.C. The 24-year-old lefty struck out eight batters, walking five, en route to the accomplishment. Remarkably, this was Burke's first start for the Nationals in more than a month, as he appeared in six games out of the bullpen in between starts. Burke's no-hitter would be the last one thrown by a D.C. ballplayer until Jordan Zimmermann accomplished the feat more than 83 years later. Manager Walter Johnson told the media following Burke's no hitter:

"Before I sent Burke into the game, I told him to cut loose...He gained a lot of confidence in those early innings when the Red Sox started missing those third strikes. He was throwing the last pitch over there as if it was the first one and he soon found out he was getting away with it, like we told him he would." - The Washington Post, Aug. 10, 1931

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE NO-HITTER

Jordan Zimmermann

On the final day of the 2014 National League East Division championship season, Jordan Zimmermann took the hill against Miami's Henderson Alvarez. Coincidentally, Alvarez tossed a no-hitter on the final day of the 2013 season for the Marlins. Zimmermann was his calm, efficient self, striking out 10 batters while walking just one, Justin Bour, on a 3-2 pitch that home plate umpire Alan Porter determined was just a bit low. Alvarez also spun a gem of his own, with the lone run of the game coming on an Ian Desmond solo home run into the Miami bullpen. Zimmermann's feat would have never materialized had it not been for Steven Souza Jr.'s miraculous play on the final out. His diving, over-the-shoulder catch of a line drive off the bat of Christian Yelich made an out of what was certain to be an extra-base hit. In a moment of pure emotion not usually shown by the stoic Zimmermann, he dropped his head, put his hands on his hips and would later tell the media, he thought "Double. No-doubt double," as the ball carried to deep left field. To make the catch, Souza Jr. dove backward, almost parallel to the ground, in an attempt to secure the ball. When he fell to the ground and reached his glove to the sky, Zimmermann thrust his right arm in the air as the crowd at Nationals Park erupted and the dugout emptied onto the field, mobbing Zimmermann and Souza Jr.

Max Scherzer

Coming off one of the most dominant pitching performances in Nationals history (2005-present), Max Scherzer took the hill at Nationals Park on June 20, 2015 looking to pick up where he left off. In his previous start, Scherzer struck out a then-Nationals-record and career-best 16 Milwaukee Brewers, while allowing just one hit (a Carlos Gomez flare to right field) in 9.0 shutout innings on June 14 at Miller Park. With a severe rain storm in the evening forecast for the Metro D.C. area, Scherzer took the mound at 4:05 p.m. and was perfect through 8.2 innings against a potent Pittsburgh Pirates lineup, striking out 10 batters along the way. With two outs in the top of the ninth inning, Pirates manager Clint Hurdle sent pinch-hitter Jose Tabata to the plate. A battle ensued, with Tabata quickly down 0-2 before working the count to 2-2. With Scherzer on the doorstep of history, Tabata managed to foul off three straight pitches before a slider from Scherzer ran in and hit him on the left elbow. Replays would spark debate as to whether or not Tabata attempted to move out of the way of the pitch, but Scherzer quickly moved on, telling the media: "You just focus on what you can do next. Just move on to the next hitter and go after Harrison, and do everything you can do and just pound him with fastballs. I was able to collect that final out." Indeed, one batter later Scherzer gathered himself and coaxed Josh Harrison into hitting a high fly ball to deep left field that settled into the glove of rookie Michael A. Taylor, completing the first no-hitter of Scherzer's career.

Max Scherzer

With the 2015 season coming to a close, and once again after carrying a no-hitter through 7.1 innings in his previous outing, Max Scherzer took the hill for the final start of his inaugural season in Washington, D.C., vs. the 2015 National League East Division Champion New York Mets. In the second game of a doubleheader, Scherzer turned in one of the most dominant pitching performances in Major League history. Becoming just the sixth pitcher in MLB history to throw two no-hitters in the same season (including the postseason), Scherzer joined Johnny Vander Meer (1938), Allie Reynolds (1951), Virgil Trucks (1952), Nolan Ryan (1973) and Roy Halladay (2010). Scherzer was the first, however, to throw no-hitters against two postseason-bound teams in the same season, and the first to accomplish the dual feats without walking a single batter in either outing. Just one baserunner, catcher Kevin Plawecki, was able to reach base, due to a fielding error by third baseman Yunel Escobar. When his masterpiece was complete, Scherzer struck out a Nationals record (2005-present) and new career-best 17 batters, including a franchise record (Nationals/Expos) nine consecutive batters from the sixth to the ninth inning. According to the Elías Sports Bureau, Scherzer's 17 strikeouts tied Nolan Ryan (7/15/73 vs. DET) for the MLB record for strikeouts in a no-hitter. When asked about his place in Major League Baseball history, Scherzer said he was speechless. "You go out there and accomplish as much as you can," he said. "When you start talking about that (kind of history), you don't have words for it."

The 1937 Midsummer Classic, which was the fifth Major League Baseball All-Star Game, was played on July 7th at Griffith Stadium. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was in attendance for the contest, marking the first All-Star Game to be played in front of a sitting President. Six future Presidents would later follow Roosevelt's lead, combining for eight overall All-Star appearances. The American League won the game, 8-3, improving to 4-1 overall in the five games. In the bottom of the third inning, Cleveland's Earl Averill hit a line drive off the foot of St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Dizzy Dean. Dean suffered a fractured toe and never fully recovered, pitching in just 42 games over the next four seasons. The AL started the scoring with two runs in the bottom of the third inning on a two-run home run by Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig. The homer drove home his Yankees teammate and fellow Hall of Famer Joe DiMaggio. After the NL cut the lead to 2-1 in the top of the fourth, the AL answered with three more runs of its own in the bottom of the inning and never looked back. The game featured 21 future Hall of Famers, including Earl Averill, Joe Cronin, Dizzy Dean, Bill Dickey, Joe DiMaggio, Rick Ferrell, Jimmie Fox, Lou Gehrig, Charlie Gehringer, Lefty Gomez, Hank Greenberg, Lefty Grove, Gabby Hartnett, Billy Herman, Carl Hubbell, Ernie Lombardi, Joe Medwick, Johnny Mize, Mel Ott, Arky Vaughan and Paul Waner.

The 1956 Midsummer Classic returned to Griffith Stadium for a second time to host the 23rd All-Star Game. The National League, using just three pitchers for the fourth time in All-Star history defeated the American League, 7-3, for their second consecutive victory and sixth in seven years. The game was highlighted by home runs from four of the greatest players to ever play the game: Willie Mays and Stan Musial for the NL and Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle for the AL. After the NL built a 5-0 lead, Williams and Mantle hit back-to-back homers in the bottom of the sixth inning to make it a 5-3 game, but that was as close as the AL would get. Musial responded with his solo home run in the top of the seventh and his Cardinals teammate Ken Boyer made one outstanding defensive play after another to go along with his three hits to help the NL maintain the lead. The back-to-back homers by Williams and Mantle was the second such instance, and one of the five overall in All-Star history. NL starting pitcher Bob Friend picked up the victory after tossing three scoreless innings with three strikeouts. The game featured 18 Hall of Famers, including Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, Yogi Berra, Roy Campanella, Whitey Ford, Nellie Fox, Al Kaline, George Kell, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Mathews, Willie Mays, Stan Musial, Robin Roberts, Frank Robinson, Duke Snider, Warren Spahn, Ted Williams and Early Wynn.

Kennedy threw out the ceremonial first pitch. The NL topped the AL, 3-1, winning its 11th game in its last 15 attempts. Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop Maury Wills went 1-for-1 with two runs scored and a stolen base to capture the Arch Ward Trophy in the first year it was given to the game's Most Valuable Player. Hall of Famer Roberto Clemente recorded three of the NL's eight hits while the AL scattered just four hits in the game with their lone run coming on a Roger Maris sacrifice fly to score Rich Rollins. National League starting pitcher Don Drysdale threw three scoreless innings before handing the ball to his rival Juan Marichal of the Giants, who picked up the win with two scoreless innings. The 40th Midsummer Classic was won by the National League, 9-3, marking the seventh consecutive victory for the Senior Circuit. Reds catcher Johnny Bench hit a two-run home run in the second inning to extend the NL lead to 3-0. The hometown hero, Frank Howard, put the AL on the board in the second inning with a solo home run. The NL answered back with five runs in the top of the third, highlighted by Willie McCovey's two-run homer and back-to-back doubles by Steve Millan and pitcher Steve Carlton. McCovey later homered to capture MVP honors. 89TH MLB ALL-STAR GAME // JULY 2018

Nationals Park, Washington D.C., Virginia and Maryland were at the center of the baseball universe in July of 2018, serving as the host of the 89th Major League Baseball All-Star Game - the fifth All-Star Game held in D.C. (2018, 1969, 1962, 1956, 1937).

89TH ALL-STAR GAME PRESENTED BY MASTERCARD

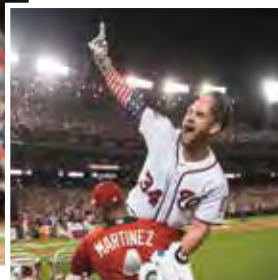

The American League topped the National League, 8-6, in 10 innings. Tied at 2-2 heading to the top of the eighth inning, the two clubs combined to plate 10 runs in a thrilling final three innings. Seattle's Jean Segura clubbed a three-run home run in the top half of the eighth inning, while Milwaukee's Christian Yelich hit a solo homer and Cincinnati's Scooter Gennett hit a game-tying two-run shot in the bottom half. Alex Bregman of the Houston Astros was awarded the Ted Williams Most Valuable Player Award presented by Chevrolet after leading off the 10th inning with a solo home run to give the American League the 6-5 lead. 13 of the 14 runs came via an All-Star Game record 10 home runs. Max Scherzer tallied four strikeouts across 2.0 innings while making the start for the National League. Bryce Harper started the game in center field. Nationals manager Dave Martinez served as a coach on Dave Roberts' National League staff. Prior to the game, MLB paid tribute to 29 Medal of Honor recipients with a special video narrated by Bradley Cooper and a unique national anthem with performers dressed and positioned to create a large American Flag.

T-MOBILE HOME RUN DERBY

Nationals outfielder Bryce Harper - with the help of father Ron Harper and motivation from teammates Max Scherzer and Sean Doolittle, as well as former teammates Wilson Ramos and Felipe Vazquez - claimed victory in the T-Mobile Home Run Derby. Harper beat Atlanta's Freddie Freeman (1st rd.), Los Angeles Dodger Max Muncy (2nd rd.) and Chicago's Kyle Schwarber (final) en route to becoming the third player ever to win the Derby in his home ballpark, joining Hall of Famer Ryne Sandberg (1990, Wrigley Field) and Todd Frazier (2015, Great American Ball Park). In the final round, Harper clubbed nine home runs in the final minute and a half before receiving an additional 30 seconds of time. He hit his 19th home run of the round on his second swing, giving him the title. After the Derby-winning homer left his bat, Harper was mobbed by teammates Max Scherzer and Sean Doolittle, and was lifted in the air by manager Dave Martinez.

SIRIUSXM ALL-STAR FUTURES GAME

Team USA and Team World combined for eight home runs as the U.S. squad topped the World, 10-6. Cincinnati Reds prospect Taylor Trammell earned MVP honors, going 2-for-2 with a home run and a triple. Top Nationals prospects Carter Kieboom (0-for-2) and Luis Garcia (0-for-0, BB) entered the game as defensive replacements.

The Armed Services Classic was a co-ed adult softball tournament comprised of teams of active duty personnel from each of the five military branches. The Air Force and Army won the right to play for the newly-minted trophy crowned by an eagle figurine in the first installment of the tournament. On June 2nd and 3rd, the five branches of the military competed in a round robin tournament, with the Air Force and Army each compiling 3-1 records to advance. The inaugural All-Star Armed Services Classic presented by T-Mobile ended in a 9-2 win for the Air Force over the Army. Major League Baseball and the Washington Nationals designed the event to support and honor the general military community, as well as the many service members and families stationed in the National Capital Region.

NEGRO LEAGUES TRIBUTE AT BEN'S CHILI BOWL

MLB unveiled a mural honoring Negro Leagues Baseball and trailblazing players Mamie "Peanut" Johnson and Josh Gibson on the Lincoln Theatre across from historic Washington, DC restaurant Ben's Chili Bowl.

LEGACY PROJECTS

Shortly after Washington, D.C. was announced as the host of the 89th MLB All-Star Game, Major League Baseball, the Washington Nationals, and the Nationals Dream Foundation began planning the 2018 All-Star Legacy initiative. Through this annual Midsummer Classic program, approximately $5 million was given to seven community enrichment projects designed to leave a lasting impact throughout the local community, as well as support national charitable organizations with close ties to baseball.

Nationals All-Star Field at Walker Mill Regional Park (Prince George's County, Md.)

One baseball field was fully renovated while a secondary field was reconfigured and improved to allow different age groups to utilize the fields and expand youth baseball play overall. Areas of improvements included field grading, upgrades to sod and ballfield mix, and the additions of a new irrigation system, scoreboard, and covered dugouts, bleachers with shade structures, batting cage and storage shed. Upgrades to the field will allow for a variety of youth-focused activities, including PLAY BALL events (e.g., Scotts MLB Pitch, Hit & Run; Jr. Home Run Derby), youth showcase and league games, and more. The Prince George's County Parks and Recreation Foundation and Prince George's County Department of Parks and Recreation will be able to promote baseball and healthy, active lifestyles to more than 3,000 kids.

Bryce Harper All-Star Complex (Herndon, Va.)

In association with the Fairfax County Park Authority, MLB, the Nationals and the Dream Foundation worked to renovate two youth baseball fields that will serve as a beacon for youth baseball players in Northern Virginia, particularly Reston Herndon Little League. This field renovation project will expand overall play after enlarging one of the fields, which will accommodate various age levels. The improvements also included laser grading of the field being expanded, an extended irrigation system, as well as additions of new scoreboards, covered dugouts, bleachers with shade structures, and enhancements to a storage shed, fencing, batting cages, bullpens, a concession stand and restrooms. The Scotts® Company, the Official Lawn Care Company of Major League Baseball, generously supported this project. The complex was renamed after Bryce Harper following his significant personal contribution to this project.

USO-Metro All-Star Depot at Fort Belvoir (Fairfax County, Va.)

This project included a fully renovated 12,000-square-foot USO logistics facility at Fort Belvoir, featuring a new HVAC system and commercial-grade refrigeration units. The facility is primarily used to receive and store non-perishable goods and program supplies that are delivered weekly to the nine USO-Metro locations in the Washington D.C. region. This renovation increased the amount of products and supplies that can be stored at the facility, including the addition of bulk perishable foods to the inventory distributed to the nine USO-Metro locations. The facility also serves as an important program and event venue throughout the year, and these renovations expanded USO-Metro's reach and provides more programming throughout the year to local service members and their families.

Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Washington -- All-Star Teen Room at Richard England Clubhouse #14 (Washington, D.C.)

This project featured a complete renovation and expansion of Clubhouse #14's Teen Room, including new furniture, TVs, computers and games, allowing much needed space and supplies for multifaceted afterschool activities. Four inoperative HVAC units were replaced, providing a temperate climate year-round for the entire Clubhouse. Many inoperable doors were also replaced, providing increased safety for all at Clubhouse #14. MLB, the Nationals and the Dream Foundation hope to help retention rates among current members, as well as attract new ones to Clubhouse #14.

Mobile Dental Unit with Children's National (Various Locations throughout Greater Washington, D.C.)

MLB, the Nationals, the Dream Foundation, and Jeff Franzen and Sons provided a brand-new mobile dental unit serving 19 sites in Wards 7 & 8 and Prince George's County, Md. In these areas there is just one dentist for every 4,000 residents (less than half of the national average) and this unit is bringing dental health professionals directly to more children and providing them with much needed dental services. The unit also provides a more comfortable experience for both health professionals and children being treated. This mobile dental unit replaced another unit that Children's National, the leading pediatric health system in the Washington D.C. area, launched in 2001 to serve District of Columbia's Wards 7 & 8 and Prince George's County. Additionally, the new unit comes with the latest dental equipment and more patient chairs to serve more children than the previous unit allowed.

All-Star Pavilion at Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy (Washington, D.C.)

The Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy has become a hub for youth baseball and softball in the District, and the All-Star Pavilion, which is located next to the Academy's main field, has become a key element to programming and events since being unveiled during All-Star Week. The All-Star Pavilion is a 2,880 square foot open-air space that covers four short-throw batting cages. These covered batting cages provide much needed, weather-protected spaces and give scholar-athletes the ability to practice their baseball and softball skills in an open and airy environment. Additionally, the All-Star Pavilion allows for the creation of an outdoor gathering area with picnic tables for the Academy's famers' market and community use. The All-Star Pavilion is utilized year-round.

All-Star Teen Room, Playground, Computer Lab & Community Room at SOME Spring Road (Washington, D.C.)

MLB, the Nationals and the Dream Foundation provided a teen room, playground, computer lab, and community room in cooperation with a much larger project with SOME (So Others Might Eat) Spring Road. SOME Spring Road offers safe, affordable housing to 37 homeless and extremely low-income families, including more than 100 children, currently living in Washington D.C. SOME's high-level supportive programs are being housed in these new MLB & Nationals-supported areas, and have given the resident children the ability to safely play and have fun right outside of their front door. Providing onsite programming for Spring Road's resident children and teens not only eliminates transportation barriers impacting participation, but gives parents peace of mind knowing that their children are safe at their family's home base.

BIG TRAIN

THE HISTORY OF THE MONTREAL EXPOS (1969-2004)

The city of Montreal had a long association with professional baseball even before it was awarded a Major League franchise in 1968. On April 18, 1946, the Montreal Royals, a minor league affiliate of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the International League, secured their place in baseball history when Jackie Robinson made his professional debut and became the first African-American to play professional baseball in the 20th Century.

More than two decades later, as the National League was seeking to expand by two franchises, former Montreal city councillor Gerry Snyder presented the city's formal bid during an owners' meeting in Mexico City, Mexico. Six months later on May 27, 1968, it was announced that Major League Baseball was expanding outside the United States for the first time as Montreal was awarded a National League franchise to begin play in 1969.

Despite some early concerns about the team's financing, Montreal met its initial deposit deadline and officially became a member of the National League on Aug. 14, 1968. Charles Bronfman, a distillery magnate and an original investor, was named chairman with Paul Beaudry and Lorne Webster as vice-chairmen. John McHale was named president and chief executive officer, while Jim Fanning was appointed the team's first general manager.

On Sept. 5, 1968, the Montreal franchise named Gene Mauch field manager. Mauch was returning to familiar ground as he played two seasons for the minor league Montreal Royals in 1943 and 1944. McHale also announced that the team would be known as the Expos, in recognition of Expos 67, an international exhibition that attracted 50 million visitors to the city in 1967.

Only five days later, pitcher Dave Hartman became the first player to sign a contract with the Expos. Hartman never actually played for the Expos or made it to the Major Leagues. However, an expansion draft was conducted on Oct. 14, 1968 and the Expos selected the following 30 players:

Manny Mota, Mack Jones, John Bateman, Gary Sutherland, John Billingham, Donn Clendenon, Jesus Alou, Mike Wegener, Skip Guinn, Bill Stoneman, Maury Wills, Larry Jackson, Bob Reynolds, Dan McGinn, Jose Herrera, Jim Williams, Angel Hermoso, Jim Grant, Jerry Robertson, Don Shaw, Ty Cline, Garry Jestadt, Carl Morton, Larry Jaster, Ernest McAnally, Jim Fairey, Jose Laboy, John Boccabella, Rob Brand and John Glass.

The Expos' first home ballpark was Jarry Park, a converted minor league stadium named after former councillor Raoul Jarry in 1927. Jarry Park's initial capacity was 3,000, but was expanded to 28,450 as the ballpark met MLB standards.

Montreal made its National League debut on April 8, 1969 at Shea Stadium in New York against one of the National League's last expansion teams, the Mets. The Expos held off a furious ninth inning rally to claim an 11-10 victory. Pitcher Dan McGinn hit the first home run in franchise history, a solo shot off future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver in the fourth inning.

Jarry Park hosted its first regular season game six days later as 29,814 fans witnessed Major League Baseball in Canada for the first time. Despite facing a St. Louis Cardinals lineup that featured names such as Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Dal Maxvill and Joe Torre, the Expos treated their fans to an 8-7 win.

One of the highlights of the inaugural season came on April 17 at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia. Bill Stoneman, later a general manager with the Expos and the Anaheim Angels, pitched the franchise's first no-hitter in defeating the Phillies, 7-0. The Expos would go on to finish the season with a 52-110 mark.

The following season saw Montreal improve by 21 games under Mauch. Twenty-six-year-old pitcher Carl Morton went 18-11 with a 3.26 ERA en route to being named the 1970 NL Rookie of the Year. In 1973, the Expos made their first pennant chase as they won 79 games and were in the race for the National League East title until the final weekend of the season.

After a few disappointing seasons, the Expos moved into Olympic Stadium in 1977, which was the main venue for the 1976 Olympic Games. A crowd of 57,592 fans attended the first game at The Big O as the Expos fell to the Phillies, 7-2.

Montreal started to form the nucleus of a team that would bring home its first NL East title with players such as Ellis Valentine, Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie, Gary Carter and Steve Rogers. The Expos won 95 games in 1979 only to fall two games shy of the title and were again in the pennant race until the final game of the 1980 season.

In 1981, the Expos finally cleared the hurdle as they won the NL East's second half title in a season shortened by a players' strike. In a best-of-five Divisional Series, Montreal topped first-half champion Philadelphia, three games to two, and advanced to their first NLCS.

The NLCS against Tommy Lasorda's Los Angeles Dodgers went down to the ninth inning of the fifth and deciding game. With the game tied at 1-1, Dodgers outfielder Rick Monday hit a two-out solo homer off Rogers. The Expos put two runners on in the bottom of the ninth, but could not tie the score as Los Angeles advanced to the World Series.

In 1982, Montreal hosted the first Major League Baseball All-Star Game to be held outside of the United States. The National League won its 11th consecutive Midsummer Classic on the strength of a home run by Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion. Five players represented the Expos on the NL squad: Carter, Rogers, Dawson, Tim Lincecum and Al Oliver.

Montreal remained competitive throughout much of the next decade, including 91 wins in 1987 by a team led by Raines, Andres Galarraga, Hubie Brooks and Tim Wallach.

Bronfman sold the franchise to team president Claude Brochu on June 14, 1991. The next season Brochu appointed long-time Montreal coach Felipe Alou as field manager. Alou guided the Expos to 87 victories and a second-place finish in his first year at the helm and then improved upon that with 94 wins in 1993.

HISTORY & RECORDS

The 1994 season saw a core group of players such as Larry Walker, Marquis Grissom, Moises Alou, Pedro Martinez, Ken Hill and John Wetteland storm out to a 74-40 mark - the best in the Major Leagues - and a six-game lead in the newly-formed National League East on Aug. 11. However, the season was never completed. A players' strike began the following day that would wipe out the remainder of the 1994 schedule.

After the changing economics of the baseball landscape forced the Expos to trade some of those core players, the '95 team finished in last place in the NL East. It was only the second time since 1977 that Montreal finished in last place.

Two years later, Martinez continued to establish himself as one of the top starting pitchers in the Major Leagues. He posted a 17-8 record with a 1.90 ERA, 305 strikeouts and 13 complete games en route to being the only Expos' pitcher to win the National League Cy Young Award. That winter, Martinez was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

The 1998 season was marked by stellar individual performances on the field and uncertainty off the field. Outfielder Vladimir Guerrero, 22, displayed his immense talent by setting six Montreal records, including the club single-season home run mark. Also, 24-year-old closer Ugueth Urbina recorded 34 saves with a 1.30 ERA, and Alou became the franchise's most successful manager with his 521st victory on Aug. 19.

Off the field, Brochu struggled in an attempt to finalize funding for a new downtown ballpark and announced his willingness to sell his shares of the franchise. In 1999, Jeffrey Loria was officially approved as the Expos controlling person following a buy-back of Brochu's shares. In February 2002, Major League Baseball approved the sale of the Florida Marlins to Loria and the sale of the Expos to Major League Baseball and the 29 other Major League Clubs. A new Expos senior management team was announced: Tony Tavares (president), Omar Minaya (general manager) and Hall of Famer Frank Robinson (field manager). Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig also announced the formation of a relocation committee to seek a new permanent home for the franchise.

The 2003 and 2004 seasons saw the Expos make baseball history by playing a portion of their home schedule at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fans in Puerto Rico celebrated the return of Major League Baseball to the island. The Expos drew nearly 530,000 fans and posted a 20-23 mark over their 43 games played at Hiram Bithorn Stadium during the two-season trial. On Sept. 29, 2004, Commissioner Selig announced the formal approval of the relocation of the Expos franchise to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., for the 2005 season.

It took 1,882 games, and more than 11 seasons in D.C. before the Nationals experienced the thrill of turning a triple play.

On July 29, 2016 at AT&T Park in San Francisco, the Nationals clung to a 4-1 lead in the bottom of the eighth inning. The Giants loaded the bases with nobody out, bringing the dangerous Brandon Crawford to the plate. Dusty Baker brought lefty Sammy Solis in to pitch and bolstered his defense, inserting shortstop Danny Espinosa and first baseman Ryan Zimmerman behind Solis. Some may be inclined to refer to this as a "triple switch," but Espinosa was inserted straight up for Wilmer Difo, while Solis and Zimmerman entered on a "double switch."

Crawford ripped a line drive directly at Zimmerman, who was playing the line to prevent an extra base hit. Zimmerman caught the line drive and stepped on first base to double off Buster Posey. Former National Denard Span read the line drive off the bat as a base hit and broke from third base, assuming he would trot home. Zimmerman calmly tossed the ball across the diamond, where Anthony Rendon was waiting near the bag. He caught it, stepped on third base and completed the first triple play in Washington Nationals history (2005-present). It was also the first 3-3-5 triple play in Major League history.

Beyond that historic night, below are some notes on where the triple play fits into Washington's baseball history:

THE LAST TIME A D.C.-BASED TEAM HIT INTO A TRIPLE PLAY: May 19, 2010 vs. NYM. Cristian Guzman laced a sinking liner to center field that resulted in an unconventional 8-2-6-3 triple play. Angel Pagan retired Guzman by snagging the line drive, but Pagan's throw to second base was off target and bounced toward the mound, where the catcher Henry Blanco raced to scoop it up. Blanco immediately fired the ball to shortstop Jose Reyes at second base to double off Livan Hernandez. Reyes then gunned the ball to first baseman Ike Davis, who toed the bag to "triple" off Nyjer Morgan, who began the play at first base.

THE LAST TRIPLE PLAY TURNED BY THE WASHINGTON SENATORS: July 30, 1968 at Cleveland Stadium. It was an unassisted triple play turned by Ron Hansen, who caught Joe Azcue's popout before tagging Dave Nelson (began play on second base) and Russ Snyder (began play on first base) out in sequence to cap the bottom of the first inning.

THE LAST TIME A DC-BASED TEAM TURNED A TRIPLE PLAY IN A HOME GAME: April 24, 1954 vs. BOS. With runners on first (Billy Goodman) and second (Tom Brewer) base, BOS' Karl Olsen popped up a bunt and the AL Nationals turned a 1-6-3 triple play as left-handed pitcher Mickey McDermott and shortstop Mel Hoderlein each recorded a putout and an assist on the play. First baseman Roy Sievers finished feat with a putout.

RING OF HONOR AT NATIONALS PARK

On Aug. 10, 2010, the Washington Nationals unveiled their Ring of Honor at Nationals Park, honoring baseball Hall of Famers with distinct ties to Washington's baseball heritage. The display, located directly behind home plate and extending to the right field facade, features Hall of Famers and those with distinguished histories with the Washington Nationals, Washington Senators, Homestead Grays and Montreal Expos.

The Nationals, in conjunction with the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, NY, initially developed the following criteria to honor Hall of Famers: The player had to be elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, the player had to have played or managed with the Washington Nationals, Washington Senators, Homestead Grays or Montreal Expos, the player had to have played significant years with those teams. In 2016, the criteria was adjusted to honor others who have made significant contributions to the game of baseball in Washington, D.C.

NATIONALS ON TELEVISION

MASN

The television home of the Washington Nationals, MASN is an independent regional sports network that televises every available Nationals game. Owned by the Nationals and the Baltimore Orioles, the network gives fans exclusive access to action on the field and inside the game. For the tenth consecutive year, Bob Carpenter and F.P. Santangelo will return to the broadcast booth to provide fans play-by-play and color analysis during MASN's Nationals telecasts. Entering her second season, Bob & F.P. will be joined by Alex Chappell on the sideline.

Before every game, MASN televises the Nationals' exclusive pregame show, NatsXtra. The show again features Dan Kolko, returning for his seventh season covering the Nationals, and Bo Porter, who returns for his second season providing analysis of the games. After each game, MASN televises the NatsXtra postgame show, featuring game highlights, player interviews and the manager's press conference.

All of MASN's cable, satellite and fiber optic distributors carry MASN and MASN2 on a consistent channel throughout the season and most providers also carry MASN HD and MASN2 HD. Visit www.masnsports.com for local listings.

MASN's television territory covers all or parts of six states and the District of Columbia, from Harrisburg, PA, to Charlotte, NC, including Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia. The network is carried by most cable and satellite providers in the mid-Atlantic region. For more information, visit www.masnsports.com.

BOB CARPENTER

Bob Carpenter is in his 15th season with MASN and the Nationals, and his 37th in Major League Baseball. After earning a Radio-TV-Film degree with honors from the University of Missouri-Kansas City in 1975, Carpenter began his broadcasting career in 1976 on radio baseball play-by-play with the Tulsa Oilers. Carpenter came to Washington in 2006 after 10 years on TV and radio with the St. Louis Cardinals and 16 seasons of MLB on ESPN. During the spring of 2017, Carpenter retired from calling college basketball games after 40 years, the last 15 with the University of Oklahoma, and many with ESPN and USA Network. He was inducted into the Oklahoma Broadcasters Association Hall of Fame in March 2017. A St. Louis native, Carpenter's MLB debut came in 1984 with Cardinals baseball on Sportstime Cable Network, and he returned in 1995 on KPLR-TV and KMOX Radio. Carpenter was nominated for four St. Louis/Mid-America Emmys, winning twice (1996 and 1997), and a National Capital/Chesapeake Bay Emmy in 2008 for his Nationals play-by-play. Carpenter was also named co-D.C. Sportscenter of the Year in 2014 by the National Sportscenter and Sportswriters Association. Carpenter appeared on TV in the 1980s and 1990s, calling MLB games with the Rangers, Mets and Twins. He announced MLB, college basketball, and college football during 18 seasons of play-by-play with ESPN from 1988-2005, and, as a reporter, was in Denver and Phoenix for two MLB Expansion Drafts. Carpenter has broadcast baseball playoffs, five Triple-A All-Star Games, NCAA/NIT Basketball Tournaments and College Football bowl games. His studio work includes College Gameday and College Football Scoreboard shows. Carpenter announced the 2005 NCAA Basketball Final Four in his hometown of St. Louis for NCAA International TV, one of the seven NCAA tournaments he has called. Before joining ESPN, Carpenter handled a variety of sports for USA Network, including pro soccer, college basketball and football, PGA Golf (including The Masters) and professional tennis (including the U.S. Open). Carpenter announced numerous soccer matches at RFK Stadium, starting as the TV voice of Team America in 1983, and worked several matches in D.C. during the 1994 World Cup. Bob and his wife of 40 years, Debbie, have two daughters and a son-in-law: Katie, Ryan and Allison.

F.P. SANTANGELO

F.P. Santangelo returns for his 10th season broadcasting Nationals games on MASN, working alongside play-by-play veteran Bob Carpenter. Prior to joining MASN in 2011, Santangelo earned broadcast experience announcing San Francisco Giants games on CSN Bay Area and the Giants Radio Network, as well as hosting radio talk shows on San Francisco's KNBR-680 AM and Sacramento's KHTK-1140 AM. Santangelo played parts of seven seasons in the Major Leagues with the Giants, Montreal Expos, Los Angeles Dodgers, and Oakland A's during his 14-year professional career. In 665 MLB games, he batted .245 with 87 doubles, 14 triples, 21 homers, 162 RBI and 37 stolen bases. He appeared in one Postseason with Oakland in 2001. Primarily an outfielder, Santangelo played six different positions during his career and played under former Nationals Managers Dusty Baker in 1999 (SF) and Davey Johnson in 2000 (LAD). He was selected by the Expos in the 20th round of the 1983 First-Year Player Draft, and finished fourth in the 1996 NL Rookie of the Year voting. Santangelo played collegiately at Sacramento City College and the University of Miami after graduating from Oak Ridge High School in El Dorado Hills, Calif. He is a father of two: F.P. Jr., 24, and Summer Jo, 22.

ALEX CHAPPELL

Alex Chappell enters her second season with the Nationals and MASN team. In 2019, she covered the NLDS for TBS. Prior to joining MASN last year, Alex worked for ESPN and covered college football for three years. She brings more than 10 years of television experience. In 2017, she covered the Tampa Bay Rays for Fox Sports Sun and following the season, covered the Postseason for TBS. Prior to her time in Tampa Bay, she reported on the Red Sox, Celtics, Bruins, and Patriots for WHDH-7News in Boston. She started her career as a reporter for CBS in Birmingham, Ala., covering Auburn University and The University of Alabama, her alma mater. Alex grew up in Cabin John, Md. and attended Walt Whitman High School in Bethesda. She's proud to return to the DMV area and cover her hometown team. Alex is married to Scott Chappell, a patent attorney at Bookoff McAndrews. They live in McLean, Va. with their golden retriever, Harley, and their tabby cat, Rocky.

NATIONALS ON THE RADIO

106.7 THE FAN

For the ninth consecutive season, 106.7 The Fan will serve as the official flagship radio station for Washington Nationals baseball. Entercom Communications owns and operates 106.7 The Fan, which broadcasts select Nationals Spring Training games, as well as all regular season and potential Postseason games. Charlie Slows and Dave Jageler are back in the booth once again, marking their 15th consecutive season together as the Nationals' radio broadcast team. Slows has been with the Nationals since the club's inaugural campaign in 2005, while Jageler joined him behind the mic in 2006.

As part of their agreement, 106.7 The Fan will broadcast a variety of Nationals-related programs, including daily reports from Spring Training and pre- and post-game shows.

The station will also operate a studio set at Nationals Park for pre- and post-game coverage, as well as special live broadcasts of its local sports talk shows. 106.7 The Fan broadcasts an exciting lineup of local sports talk shows including The Sports Junkies, The Grant & Danny Show, and the Chad Dukes vs. The World show.

CHARLIE SLOWS

Charlie Slows has been behind the microphone for every season of Nationals baseball, from the call of the first pitch in club history on April 4, 2005 through Daniel Hudson's historic strikeout of Michael Brantley to end Game 7 of the 2019 World Series. That moment sits atop Slows' Nationals highlights, a list that includes Jayson Werth's memorable walk-off home run in Game 4 of the 2012 National League Division Series, Max Scherzer's 20-strikeout game, three no-hitters, Bryce Harper's three-homer game, Washington's four consecutive home runs in San Diego and Kurt Suzuki's walk-off, three-run homer that capped a seven-run bottom of the ninth inning to beat the Mets. Slows' call "and if you walked out of this ball park when the Mets scored five runs in the top of the 9th inning, you BLEW IT!" with partner Dave Jageler, became a tv/radio/internet/social media phenomenon shortly thereafter. Slows became the original voice of the Nationals on February 24, 2005, in time for their inaugural Spring Training. His trademark taglines—"BANG, ZOOM go the fireworks!" and "A #CurlyW is in the books!"—after Nationals victories soon became part of the Beltway baseball lexicon. The 2020 season marks Slows' 16th with the Nationals, his 23rd consecutive year calling Major League Baseball, and 28th overall. He will call his 2,500th Nationals broadcast in 2020, entering the campaign having called 3,626 Major League regular season and Postseason games, including 2,463 with the Nationals. Baseball's return to our nation's capital in 2005 also marked a return for Slows, named the radio voice of the NBA's Washington Bullets in 1986 at just 25 years of age. Slows called Bullets games through the 1996-97 season, covering 11 seasons, including two years of radio/TV simulcasts. Slows made the switch to Major League Baseball full-time in 1998 as an original radio voice of the Tampa Bay Rays, calling their first seven seasons. Slows had previously called games for the New York Mets (1988 & 1991) on WFAN-AM, the Baltimore Orioles (1989-90) on WBAL-AM, and on the network level for NBC-TV and CBS Radio. Slows also called Triple-A baseball for the Tidewater Tides on radio and TV in 1986, 1988, 1991 and 1992. Slows is among those (starting with legendary Ford Frick Award-winner and Hall of Famer Vin Scully) to have entered sports broadcasting after graduating from Fordham University in his native New York City, and having honed his skills on Fordham's 50,000-watt blowtorch, WFUV 90.7 FM. Slows' first career break came not long after graduation, in the spring of 1984 at KMOX radio in St. Louis, where for three years he was exposed to the likes of Ford Frick Award-winners, the late Jack Buck, and Bob Costas. In three years in St. Louis, Slows was involved in broadcasts of Cardinals baseball, Cardinals football, Blues hockey and play-by-play of St. Louis University basketball. In three-plus decades as a play-by-play broadcaster, Slows has also called boxing for ESPN, MSL soccer for the New York Arrows (1983) and college basketball at the University of South Florida. During the Nationals' 2012 NL East Division Championship chase, Slows joined MLB Network's afternoon show, "The Rundown," and will again report for the TV network in 2020. Slows called play-by-play for his third Washington sports team when he filled in for John Walton on Washington Capitals radio during the Caps run to their first Stanley Cup Championship in February of 2018. Charlie and his wife, Tina, have two sons, James (26) and Alex (22), and the family splits time between homes in Alexandria, Va. and Palm Harbor, Fla.

DAVE JAGELER

Dave Jageler enters his 15th season with the Nationals, teaming with Charlie Slows since 2006 to form the longest-running radio play-by-play duo in the District. Jageler has been at the mic for the Nationals' four NL East championships, plus three no-hitters and Max Scherzer's MLB record-tying 20-strikeout performance. Jageler joined the Nationals after spending the 2005 campaign as the radio and TV voice of the Pawtucket Red Sox of the Triple-A International League. Prior to joining Pawtucket, he worked in Boston co-hosting an afternoon talk show and serving in various capacities with the Boston Celtics radio network, including fill-in play-by-play. Jageler spent six years in Charlotte as the voice of UNC-Charlotte basketball and co-hosting a morning drive talk show. While in Charlotte, he built his baseball resume with the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the 1995, 1996 and 2001 seasons doing play-by-play. Jageler's voice was also heard in D.C., as he served as a host on the Virginia Tech Sports Network during the 1993-94 basketball season. He has also served as the studio host for Westwood One's NHL Game of the Week, the Florida State and Texas Longhorns football networks, and has done fill-in play-by-play for both the Seminoles and Longhorns. The Windsor, Conn. native is a graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, where he began his play-by-play career broadcasting Syracuse football and basketball games on WAER, and baseball for the Triple-A Syracuse Chiefs on Time Warner Cable and the Empire Sports Network. Dave and his wife, Jennifer, have two children: Jared (20) and Sarah (16).

In addition to their flagship station WJFK 106.7-FM/WJFK 1580-AM, the Nationals Radio Network will broadcast portions of Washington's 2020 Spring Training and regular-season schedule to five states and The District of Columbia on the following stations:
